Kennedy Calls For Unity

President-Elect's Popular Vote Edge Slim

Minnesota Puts Senator Over The Top

Boston Democrat Acknowledges His Victory Over Nixon

Associated Press nationwide returns at 10 p. m. EST from 161,587 of 166,083 voting units:
Kennedy 33,163,334 (50.2 per cent).
Nixon 32,852,795 (49.8 per cent).
Kennedy led in 25 states with 338 electoral votes; Nixon in 24 states with 185; needed to win 269.

WASHINGTON (AP — John F. Kennedy, elected president in an exciting climax to a campaign of unmatched rigor, called on the nation for a supreme effort "to move this country safely through the 1960s."

The slender, 43-year-old Boston Democrat, youngest man and the only Roman Catholic ever to be elected president, happily acknowledged his victory over Vice President Richard M. Nixon in Wednesday afternoon news conference at Hyannis Port, Mass.

With his wife, Jacqueline, standing beside him in the town armory, he capped his sober plea with a flashing smile and this whimsical comment: "Now my wife and I prepare for a new administration and a new baby." She expects her child in about three weeks.

It was only about an hour and a half earlier that Kennedy clinched the hairline popular vote victory, when Minnesota, after teetering, plumped into his column. Minnesota's 11 pushed his electoral vote total to 272. Nixon then had 177. It took 269 to win.

At that point, California and Illinois among the big states were still to be decided. Illinois a little later went for Kennedy with its 27 electoral votes. Kennedy was leading for the 32 in California, Nixon's home state.

Popular Vote Close

It seemed possible that Kennedy's total might go to 338.

For thrills, this election had it; including a razor-thin margin in the popular vote. A record was set in total votes cast—close to 70 million seemed likely—and the popular vote edge was Kennedy 50.2 per cent and Nixon 49.8

Nixon took the defeat in quiet fashion in California.

Kennedy won by doing what he said months ago he'd have to do—take most of the big states, including New York and Pennsylvania.

At the Hyannis Port Armory, Kennedy read to the assembled townspeople, and to the nation over television, the congratulatory messages he had received from Nixon and from President Eisenhower.

He read, too, his replies. He gratefully accepted Nixon's congratulations, praised him for making a fine race and predicted Nixon's capabilities would continue to serve the nation.

Eisenhower's wire was terse, almost curt, but Kennedy replied warmly. He said he anticipated meeting soon with Eisenhower and told the man he will succeed next Jan. 20 that the country must continue to draw on his long experience in the service of America.

Khrush Congratulates Kennedy

Not only is Kennedy the youngest man ever to be elected president, but he will be taking over next January from the oldest man ever to serve as president, the 70-plus Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Soviet Premier Khrushchev sent congratulations from Moscow, telling Kennedy he hoped that U. S.-Soviet relations will "again follow the line along which they were developing in Franklin D. Roosevelt's time."

Nixon Defeated But Still Smiling

Wires Congratulations To Kennedy

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Richard M. Nixon tasted political defeat for the first time Wednesday—and took it in the tradition of good losers.

The Republican vice president was turned back in his long, arduous quest of the White House by a decisive electoral vote margin for Democrat John F. Kennedy.

He sent the winner a congratulatory wire Wednesday morning, then was to fly with his family to Washington—a day earlier than planned. An aide said they wanted to keep their children out of school no longer than necessary.

The Nixons flew in Tuesday to vote, spent a sad night hearing unfavorable returns, but were seemingly cheery in the morning in spite of all.

The 47-year-old Nixon—congressman at 33, senator at 37, vice president at 39—had never lost at the polls until returns sent him tumbling in his try for the nation's top job.

As his wife, Pat, wept at his side, Nixon smiled through bitter disappointment in a 1:15 a.m. television appearance at which he all but conceded.

And when his press secretary made the formal concession at 9:47 a.m., he pictured Nixon as in good spirits. Herbert G. Klein said he had never seen a man take such a loss with such grace.

The vice president's congratulatory wire to victorious Sen. Kennedy of Massachusetts said: "I want to repeat through this wire congratulations and best wishes I extended to you on television last night. I know you will have the united support of all Americans as you lead the nation in the cause of peace and freedom in the next four years."

Nixon himself did not appear for the announcement.

Thus ends a campaign that started in Chicago last summer by a man who, many felt, had the best on-the-job training of any presidential candidate ever.

Nixon, with his wife at his side most of the way, traveled 64,000 miles by plane, train, car and bus to each of the 50 states; made more than 500 speeches in hamlets and cities—acquired a hoarse voice, a haggard look and lost innumerable hours of sleep.

Republicans Score Gains In Congress

GOP-Dixie Demo Coalitions Seen As Major Factor

WASHINGTON (AP) — President-elect John F. Kennedy will have a Congress of reduced Democratic majorities in which coalitions of Republicans and Southern Democrats may be a dominant force on many issues.

With the last Senate race settled in late returns, Democrats were assured a 64-36 Senate majority in the 87th Congress which convenes Jan. 3. This is down 2 from the 66-34 margin they now hold.

In races for House seats, however, Republicans already have scored a net gain of 19, winning 167 while the Democrats won 256. In still undecided contests Republicans led Democratic rivals for 10 more seats, while Democrats were ahead in 4 others.

The House lineup had been a 283-154 Democratic majority in this now expiring 86th Congress.

Republican-Dixie Democratic coalitions have been potent factors in deciding many an issue of the past, or at least forcing a compromise to suit their views. These are loosely knit groups teaming together when they feel like it, going their own ways when they don't, and sometimes not unanimous in either choice.

Teamups Carry Weight

House Republicans figure that on many issues they can count on support of 80 or more Southern members, to swing a majority vote. In the Senate, the Republicans often have been able to team up with 16 to 18 Southern senators, and also swing a majority.

As few as 140 House Republicans teaming with 80 Southern Democrats could command one more than the 219-vote majority. In the Senate 16 Southerners and 35 Republicans could produce the 51-vote majority needed in that 100-member branch.

These teamups often involve economic and civil rights legislation, and both are expected to be issues in the coming Congress session.

Returns from the elections set some strange patterns, and particularly weakened the hands of the House Democratic forces who fly the liberal banner.

Twenty-five Democrats, most of them in this category, were denied re-election in the voting, while the Republicans in the races decided so far have lost three incumbents.

House Big 3 Reelected

In the broad view, the picture looks much like the one that President Eisenhower has faced in the last two years, and mainly with the same key figures in Congress.

The big three of the House, Speaker Sam Rayburn, D-Tex.; the majority leader, Rep. John W. McCormack, D-Mass., and the Republican leader, Rep. Charles A. Halleck of Indiana, all were re-elected.

Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson, D-Tex., advances from the post of majority leader to the vice presidency, and thus will remain at the Capitol to preside at Senate sessions. Sen. Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., assistant leader, is likely to inherit the leadership, and Sen. Everett Dirksen of Illinois to retain the Republican leadership. Both are

Man Chosen To Lead U. S. Voices Plea

Senator Appears Anxious To Heal Wounds Of Battle

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (AP)—John F. Kennedy solemnly assured his fellow Americans Wednesday he will dedicate his presidency to moving the nation safely through the 1960s and advancing "the cause of freedom around the world."

In a dramatic appearance at the National Guard Armory in this Cape Cod summer community, the new president-elect told a nationwide television audience: "The next four years will be difficult and challenging. There is general agreement by all of our citizens that a supreme national effort is needed to move this country through the 1960s.

"We need your help. All of our energies will be devoted to the interests of the United States and the cause of freedom around the world."

It was a proud moment for the 43-year-old Democratic senator as he stood on a bunting-bedecked platform with his pretty wife, Jacqueline, wrapped in a purple coat, standing at his side, and all the adult members of his family surrounding him.

It was a proud moment for all the family, particularly his father, Joseph P. Kennedy, wealthy former ambassador to Great Britain and long a controversial figure. He stayed out of the campaign while his wife, Rose, and all the sisters and brothers worked night-and-day for the senator's election.

Solemn Senator

Perhaps the proudest of all on the platform in the big armory with up to 250 reporters, photographers, newsreel and television cameramen recording the scene for history was brother Robert, who managed the campaign that brought the senator his hair-breadth margin of victory.

The senator, facing the battery of cameras, was solemn. He had just driven over from his white frame summer cottage—which he said will be his summer White House—as part of a family caravan, guarded for the first time by his new Secret Service guard.

He seemed anxious to heal the wounds occasioned by his razor-edge defeat of Vice President Richard M. Nixon. For, after reading Nixon's telegram of congratulations, he read his own reply congratulating Nixon for "a fine race."

"I know that the nation can continue to count on your unswerving loyalty in whatever effort you undertake, and that you and I can maintain our long-standing cordial relations in the years ahead," the telegram continued.

Kennedy read, too, a telegram from President Eisenhower, who had shown great disappointment over Kennedy's victory, congratulating the winner and promising cooperation in the transfer of ad-

Sammy Davis, Jr., May Britt Get Marriage License

LOS ANGELES (AP —Negro entertainer Sammy Davis Jr., 34, and blonde Swedish actress May Britt, 26, got their marriage license Wednesday.

Davis would tell newsmen only that the wedding will take place Sunday but he wouldn't say where. Friends say it will be at Davis' home.

He did say that a reception for close friends will be held afterward at the Beverly Hilton Hotel.

Ike Offers His Aid In Easing Kennedy Task

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—President Eisenhower offered to cooperate Wednesday with any representatives President-elect John F. Kennedy might designate to help arrange an orderly transfer of government power.

Eisenhower made the offer in a lengthy telegram message sent to Kennedy at his Hyannis Port, Mass., residence, a few hours after he had congratulated him on his victory.

The President reported he has instructed all Eisenhower Cabinet departments as well as government agencies to welcome any official Kennedy observers during the 72-day period before the new president takes office.

Presidential press secretary James C. Hagerty, who reported the Eisenhower move, said this was the main item discussed by the President at a Cabinet meeting before he left for his golfing vacation in Augusta.

The heads of some 20 key government agencies joined the top representatives of the 10 Cabinet departments in the hour-long meeting.

In 1952, Eisenhower sent two representatives, financial expert Joseph F. Dodge and Henry Cabot Lodge into such meetings with representatives of President Harry S. Truman's regime before he moved into the White House Jan. 20.

Hagerty had planned to disclose the text of Eisenhower's message to Kennedy Wednesday. But he put it off until Thursday morning at the request of Kennedy's press representative, Pierre Salinger.

Eisenhower's offer and Kennedy's reply will be made public Thursday simultaneously — about 10 a.m. EST—at the White House vacation headquarters and Kennedy's Hyannis Port residence, Hagerty said.

Vatican Editor Says Kennedy Win Gratifying

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — The editor of the Vatican City newspaper Osservatore Romano expressed his "intimate satisfaction" Wednesday that the United States had elected its first Roman Catholic as president.

During the long and heated presidential campaign the newspaper avoided comment on the religion of Sen. John F. Kennedy or the religious issue—an apparent command decision of the church hierarchy and perhaps a decision by Pope John XXIII.

Raimondi Manzini, editor of the newspaper, said Wednesday in a statement regarded as reflecting the sentiment of the Vatican:

"It is naturally a cause for intimate satisfaction for Catholics to see so solemnly accepted the principle that a son of the Catholic Church — which enjoys great prestige in the United States—can reach the American presidency."

A high Vatican official put it this way: "What is really important is not so much the fact that the President of the United States is a Catholic but that a Catholic could become the President of the United States."

Kennedy May Name His State Secretary Soon

WASHINGTON (AP) — President-elect John F. Kennedy is expected to name his secretary of state fairly soon in a move to establish foreign policy liaison with outgoing Eisenhower administration officials.

He indicated it would not be before Thanksgiving.

President Eisenhower promised his full cooperation in cushioning the shock of transfer of power, especially over foreign and defense policies. He told Kennedy he will suggest "certain measures that may commend themselves to you."

Kennedy has yet to give any public indication of his choice for secretary of state. Speculation among those close to him has included Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee; W. Averell Harriman, former governor of New York, former ambassador to Moscow, and Truman administration Cabinet member; Rep. Chester Bowles D-Conn., former ambassador to India and a Kennedy foreign policy adviser; David Bruce, former undersecretary of state and former ambassador to Germany; and Adlai E. Stevenson, the Democratic presidential candidate in 1952 and 1956.

Whether there will be any spectacular personal show of Eisenhower-Kennedy unity is problematical. Eisenhower has been considering going to a North Atlantic Treaty Organization meeting in Paris next month. There has been some speculation, but no official sign, that Kennedy might go too.

Apart from the question of whether Kennedy will be there, Secretary of State Christian A. Herter is reportedly anxious to find out what policy lines he can follow at the mid-December conference of NATO allies.

The critical issue now shaping up is whether NATO should have its own nuclear strategic force of Polaris submarines. Any U.S. commitment could be carried out only by the new administration that will take over Jan. 20.

Kennedy, on the basis of his campaign speeches, could not be expected to initiate any revolutionary changes in U.S. foreign policy. His campaign arguments boiled down to saying he could do the job better than the Eisenhower administration.

Nixon Popular Vote Tops All Victors But Ike

NEW YORK (AP) — Although he lost the election, Vice President Richard M. Nixon got a higher popular vote—more than 31,850,000—than any winner of the presidency except President Eisenhower.

Harry S. Truman won in 1948 with only slightly more than 24 million votes, and Franklin D. Roosevelt's highest popular vote was 27,245,422 cast in his third-term race in 1940. Herbert Hoover won with about 21.4 million votes in 1928.

Eisenhower's record popular votes were about 33.9 million in 1952 and 35.5 million in 1956.

Debates Beat Nixon, Kennedy Manager Says

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (AP)—His campaign manager said that John F. Kennedy couldn't have won the presidency if Vice President Richard M. Nixon had not agreed to their nationally televised debates.

And the manager, Robert F. Kennedy, the winner's brother, suggested Wednesday he wouldn't approve his candidate's agreement to such debates if he runs four years from now.

"Certainly, the president will not debate some one who wants to be president," Kennedy told newsmen.

Without the debates this year, he added, "it wouldn't have been close." And he said it would have been difficult if the debates had been on radio alone.

The senator, he said, was helped by his appearance and the way he handled himself. And the debates, Kennedy added, "Pulled the rug out" from under the argument of immaturity.

U.N., In Unusual Move, Shelves Congo Debate

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI) — The General Assembly voted Wednesday night to shelve its Congo debate until after a United Nations conciliation committee can go to the Congo to seek to bring its opposing political factions together.

Over strong Western opposition led by the United States the assembly voted 48 to 30 with 18 abstentions to approve Ghana's motion to adjourn debate on the Congo issue.

The action was considered unusual in the light of heavy pressure only last week from African powers and Russia to bring the Congo question up immediately for a full airing.

The turnabout, fully supported by Russia and the other Communist countries, was considered by U.N. observers as evidence of the effectiveness of the assembly appearance Tuesday of pro-western Congolese President Joseph Kasavubu.

Kasavubu, who flew from Leopoldville, told the assembly that only he was empowered to name a Congolese delegation to the United Nations, and he proceeded to read a list of his appointees to the General Assembly.

Ghana, Guinea and six other African countries had before the assembly a resolution calling for the recognition of a delegation sent here by Leftist Premier Patrice Lumumba, who was ousted by Kasavubu. Russia supported the eight-power resolution.

Russia led a successful move earlier Wednesday to postpone, at least temporarily, a showdown in the assembly's nine-member credentials committee on the recognition of a single Congolese delegation. Soviet Ambassador Valerian A. Zorin was successful in forcing adjournment of the credentials committee until Thursday morning.

De Gaulle Fires Algeria Official

The man ousted was Andre Jacomet, 43, second highest ranking French official in Algeria. He violently denounced De Gaulle's Algerian policies at a meeting of French officials Monday and announced he was resigning in protest.

De Gaulle called in his cabinet Wednesday. Premier Michel Debre reported on Jacomet's protests against De Gaulle's Algerian policies.

Jacomet, secretary - general of the French administration in Algeria, was ordered to Paris Tuesday night by Debre. He was suspended from the council of state, Frances' top legal and administrative body.

Jacomet was replaced by Max Moulin, prefect of the Constantine Department in North Africa.

Demos Retain Governor Edge

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Voters scrambled the political line-up in the 27 governorship contests Tuesday but gave the final edge to the Democrats who added one seat to their nationwide majority.

Democrats won 15 gubernatorial races and Republicans collected 12.

Thirteen state capitals changed hands politically during the unusual flurry of seat swapping.

Democrats scored a major victory in Illinois where County Judge Otto Kerner dispossessed Republican Gov. William G. Stratton who tried for an unprecedented third four-year term. Alleged scandals during Stratton's eight-year tenure was one of the key issues during the campaign.

In Michigan, Democrat John B. Swainson moved into the national political limelight by winning the job for which he was tutored by retiring Democratic Gov. G. Mennen Williams.

Republicans countered however by knocking President-elect John F. Kennedy's home state governorship out of Democratic hands. Alleged highway irregularities was one of the issues in the Massachusetts fight that ended with Republican John A. Volpe the winner.

The GOP also picked up Kansas where Republican John Anderson blocked Democratic Gov. George Docking's try for a third two-year term. Four years ago, Docking made history by being the first member of his party ever elected to the Kansas governorship.

In Minnesota, Republican Elmer L. Andersen dislodged liberal Democratic Gov. Orville L. Freeman in what had expected to be an uphill fight for Freeman. Andersen, a former state senator, conducted a vigorous, fast moving campaign that touched nearly all of Minnesota's 87 counties.

Fourteen Democratic and 13 Republican seats were up for re-election in Tuesday's voting.

Democrats came out of it with an overall nationwide edge of 34 to 16. Previously, the 50 state capitals were divided 33 to 17 politically in the Democrats favor.

Democrats won from the GOP the states of Delaware, Illinois, Indiana, Nebraska, North Dakota, Rhode Island and West Virginia.

Kennedy Wins Calif.

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) —Final unofficial returns from all except six of California's 30,682 precincts showed tonight president-elect John F. Kennedy nailed down the state's 32 electoral votes by a plurality of 33,401 over vice president Richard M. Nixon.

Truman Pleased

INDEPENDENCE, Mo. (UPI) —Former President Harry S. Truman, who campaigned strenuously for Sen. John F. Kennedy, commented soberly Wednesday that Kennedy's election was "good for the nation and the world."

17 Women, Including Two Senators, On Capitol Hill

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Margaret Chase Smith and Maurine Neuberger Wednesday became the first two women in history to be elected simultaneously to the Senate for full six-year terms.

They will sit on opposite sides of the Senate aisle since Mrs. Smith is a Republican and Mrs. Neuberger a Democrat.

It will be the first time since 1954 that Sen. Smith has had female company in the Senate. That year a Nebraska woman was elected to fill a two-month vacancy.

Sen. Smith's victory in Maine Tuesday meant her third straight six-year term. Mrs. Neuberger was elected to the Oregon seat held by her husband before his death earlier this year.

Mrs. Smith also was involved in another female "first"—the first woman vs woman contest for a Senate seat in history. She defeated Democrat Lucia Cormier Tuesday.

By winning in Oregon Tuesday, Mrs. Neuberger became the 10th woman to serve in the Senate, and the third to win election to a full term.

The third woman to be elected to a full Senate term was Arkansas Democrat Mrs. Hattie W. Caraway, who served 13 years and one month before her term expired on Jan. 3, 1945. She was the first woman ever to be chairman of a Senate committee.

The 1960 election almost brought off another first — the highest total number of women in Congress. As it is, 15 women were elected to the House. This means the 87th Congress will match the record high of 17 females who served in the last Congress.

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (AP)—John F. Kennedy solemnly assured his fellow Americans Wednesday he will dedicate his presidency to moving the nation safely through the 1960s and advancing "the cause of freedom around the world."

In a dramatic appearance at the National Guard Armory in this Cape Cod summer community, the new president-elect told a nationwide television audience: "The next four years will be difficult and challenging. There is general agreement by all of our citizens that a supreme national effort is needed to move this country through the 1960s.

"We need your help. All of our energies will be devoted to the interests of the United States and the cause of freedom around the world."

It was a proud moment for the 43-year-old Democratic senator as he stood on a bunting-bedecked platform with his pretty wife, Jacqueline, wrapped in a purple coat, standing at his side, and all the adult members of his family surrounding him.

It was a proud moment for all the family, particularly his father, Joseph P. Kennedy, wealthy former ambassador to Great Britain and long a controversial figure. He stayed out of the campaign while his wife, Rose, and all the sisters and brothers worked night-and-day for the senator's election.

Solemn Senator

Perhaps the proudest of all on the platform in the big armory with up to 250 reporters, photographers, newsreel and television cameramen recording the scene for history was brother Robert, who managed the campaign that brought the senator his hair-breadth margin of victory.

The senator, facing the battery of cameras, was solemn. He had just driven over from his white frame summer cottage—which he said will be his summer White House—as part of a family caravan, guarded for the first time by his new Secret Service guard.

He seemed anxious to heal the wounds occasioned by his razor-edge defeat of Vice President Richard M. Nixon. For, after reading Nixon's telegram of congratulations, he read his own reply congratulating Nixon for "a fine race."

"I know that the nation can continue to count on your unswerving loyalty in whatever effort you undertake, and that you and I can maintain our long-standing cordial relations in the years ahead," the telegram continued.

Kennedy read, too, a telegram from President Eisenhower, who had shown great disappointment over Kennedy's victory, congratulating the winner and promising cooperation in the transfer of ad-

Sammy Davis, Jr., May Britt Get Marriage License

LOS ANGELES (AP —Negro entertainer Sammy Davis Jr., 34, and blonde Swedish actress May Britt, 26, got their marriage license Wednesday.

Davis would tell newsmen only that the wedding will take place Sunday but he wouldn't say where. Friends say it will be at Davis' home.

He did say that a reception for close friends will be held afterward at the Beverly Hilton Hotel.

Ike Offers His Aid In Easing Kennedy Task

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—President Eisenhower offered to cooperate Wednesday with any representatives President-elect John F. Kennedy might designate to help arrange an orderly transfer of government power.

Eisenhower made the offer in a lengthy telegram message sent to Kennedy at his Hyannis Port, Mass., residence, a few hours after he had congratulated him on his victory.

The President reported he has instructed all Eisenhower Cabinet departments as well as government agencies to welcome any official Kennedy observers during the 72-day period before the new president takes office.

Presidential press secretary James C. Hagerty, who reported the Eisenhower move, said this was the main item discussed by the President at a Cabinet meeting before he left for his golfing vacation in Augusta.

The heads of some 20 key government agencies joined the top representatives of the 10 Cabinet departments in the hour-long meeting.

In 1952, Eisenhower sent two representatives, financial expert Joseph F. Dodge and Henry Cabot Lodge into such meetings with representatives of President Harry S. Truman's regime before he moved into the White House Jan. 20.

Hagerty had planned to disclose the text of Eisenhower's message to Kennedy Wednesday. But he put it off until Thursday morning at the request of Kennedy's press representative, Pierre Salinger.

Eisenhower's offer and Kennedy's reply will be made public Thursday simultaneously — about 10 a.m. EST—at the White House vacation headquarters and Kennedy's Hyannis Port residence, Hagerty said.

Vatican Editor Says Kennedy Win Gratifying

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — The editor of the Vatican City newspaper Osservatore Romano expressed his "intimate satisfaction" Wednesday that the United States had elected its first Roman Catholic as president.

During the long and heated presidential campaign the newspaper avoided comment on the religion of Sen. John F. Kennedy or the religious issue—an apparent command decision of the church hierarchy and perhaps a decision by Pope Jona XXIII.

Raimondi Manzini, editor of the newspaper, said Wednesday in a statement regarded as reflecting the sentiment of the Vatican:

"It is naturally a cause for intimate satisfaction for Catholics to see so solemnly accepted the principle that a son of the Catholic Church — which enjoys great prestige in the United States—can reach the American presidency."

A high Vatican official put it this way: "What is really important is not so much the fact that the President of the United States is a Catholic but that a Catholic could become the President of the United States."

Kennedy May Name His State Secretary Soon

WASHINGTON (AP) — President-elect John F. Kennedy is expected to name his secretary of state fairly soon in a move to establish foreign policy liaison with outgoing Eisenhower administration officials.

He indicated it would not be before Thanksgiving.

President Eisenhower promised his full cooperation in cushioning the shock of transfer of power, especially over foreign and defense policies. He told Kennedy he will suggest "certain measures that may commend themselves to you."

Kennedy has yet to give any public indication of his choice for secretary of state. Speculation among those close to him has included Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee; W. Averell Harriman, former governor of New York, former ambassador to Moscow, and Truman administration Cabinet member; Rep. Chester Bowles D-Conn., former ambassador to India and a Kennedy foreign policy adviser; David Bruce, former undersecretary of state and former ambassador to Germany; and Adlai E. Stevenson, the Democratic presidential candidate in 1952 and 1956.

Whether there will be any spectacular personal show of Eisenhower-Kennedy unity is problematical. Eisenhower has been considering going to a North Atlantic Treaty Organization meeting in Paris next month. There has been some speculation, but no official sign, that Kennedy might go too.

Apart from the question of whether Kennedy will be there, Secretary of State Christian A. Herter is reportedly anxious to find out what policy lines he can follow at the mid-December conference of NATO allies.

The critical issue now shaping up is whether NATO should have its own nuclear strategic force of Polaris submarines. Any U.S. commitment could be carried out only by the new administration that will take over Jan. 20.

Kennedy, on the basis of his campaign speeches, could not be expected to initiate any revolutionary changes in U.S. foreign policy. His campaign arguments boiled down to saying he could do the job better than the Eisenhower administration.

Nixon Popular Vote Tops All Victors But Ike

NEW YORK (AP) — Although he lost the election, Vice President Richard M. Nixon got a higher popular vote—more than 31,850,000—than any winner of the presidency except President Eisenhower.

Harry S. Truman won in 1948 with only slightly more than 24 million votes, and Franklin D. Roosevelt's highest popular vote was 27,245,422 cast in his third-term race in 1940. Herbert Hoover won with about 21.4 million votes in 1928.

Eisenhower's record popular votes were about 33.9 million in 1952 and 35.5 million in 1956.

Debates Beat Nixon, Kennedy Manager Says

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (AP)—His campaign manager said that John F. Kennedy couldn't have won the presidency if Vice President Richard M. Nixon had not agreed to their nationally televised debates.

And the manager, Robert F. Kennedy, the winner's brother, suggested Wednesday he wouldn't approve his candidate's agreement to such debates if he runs four years from now.

"Certainly, the president will not debate some one who wants to be president," Kennedy told newsmen.

Without the debates this year, he added, "it wouldn't have been close." And he said it would have been difficult if the debates had been on radio alone.

The senator, he said, was helped by his appearance and the way he handled himself. And the debates, Kennedy added, "Pulled the rug out" from under the argument of immaturity.

U.N., In Unusual Move, Shelves Congo Debate

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI) — The General Assembly voted Wednesday night to shelve its Congo debate until after a United Nations conciliation committee can go to the Congo to seek to bring its opposing political factions together.

Over strong Western opposition led by the United States the assembly voted 48 to 30 with 18 abstentions to approve Ghana's motion to adjourn debate on the Congo issue.

The action was considered unusual in the light of heavy pressure only last week from African powers and Russia to bring the Congo question up immediately for a full airing.

The turnabout, fully supported by Russia and the other Communist countries, was considered by U.N. observers as evidence of the effectiveness of the assembly appearance Tuesday of pro-western Congolese President Joseph Kasavubu.

Kasavubu, who flew from Leopoldville, told the assembly that only he was empowered to name a Congolese delegation to the United Nations, and he proceeded to read a list of his appointees to the General Assembly.

Ghana, Guinea and six other African countries had before the assembly a resolution calling for the recognition of a delegation sent here by Leftist Premier Patrice Lumumba, who was ousted by Kasavubu. Russia supported the eight-power resolution.

Russia led a successful move earlier Wednesday to postpone, at least temporarily, a showdown in the assembly's nine-member credentials committee on the recognition of a single Congolese delegation. Soviet Ambassador Valerian A. Zorin was successful in forcing adjournment of the credentials committee until Thursday morning.

De Gaulle Fires Algeria Official

The man ousted was Andre Jacomet, 43, second highest ranking French official in Algeria. He violently denounced De Gaulle's Algerian policies at a meeting of French officials Monday and announced he was resigning in protest.

De Gaulle called in his cabinet Wednesday. Premier Michel Debre reported on Jacomet's protests against De Gaulle's Algerian policies.

Jacomet, secretary-general of the French administration in Algeria, was ordered to Paris Tuesday night by Debre. He was suspended from the council of state, Frances' top legal and administrative body.

Jacomet was replaced by Max Moulin, prefect of the Constantine Department in North Africa.

Demos Retain Governor Edge

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Voters scrambled the political line-up in the 27 governorship contests Tuesday but gave the final edge to the Democrats who added one seat to their nationwide majority.

Democrats won 15 gubernatorial races and Republicans collected 12.

Thirteen state capitals changed hands politically during the unusual flurry of seat swapping.

Democrats scored a major victory in Illinois where County Judge Otto Kerner dispossessed Republican Gov. William G. Stratton who tried for an unprecedented third four-year term. Alleged scandals during Stratton's eight-year tenure was one of the key issues during the campaign.

In Michigan, Democrat John B. Swainson moved into the national political limelight by winning the job for which he was tutored by retiring Democratic Gov. G. Mennen Williams.

Republicans countered however by knocking President-elect John F. Kennedy's home state governorship out of Democratic hands. Alleged highway irregularities was one of the issues in the Massachusetts fight that ended with Republican John A. Volpe the winner.

The GOP also picked up Kansas where Republican John Anderson blocked Democratic Gov. George Docking's try for a third two-year term. Four years ago, Docking made history by being the first member of his party ever elected to the Kansas governorship.

In Minnesota, Republican Elmer L. Andersen dislodged liberal Democratic Gov. Orville L. Freeman in what had expected to be an uphill fight for Freeman. Andersen, a former state senator, conducted a vigorous, fast moving campaign that touched nearly all of Minnesota's 87 counties.

Fourteen Democratic and 13 Republican seats were up for re-election in Tuesday's voting.

Democrats came out of it with an overall nationwide edge of 34 to 16. Previously, the 50 state capitals were divided 33 to 17 politically in the Democrats favor.

Kennedy Wins Calif.

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) —Final unofficial returns from all except six of California's 30,682 precincts showed tonight president-elect John F. Kennedy nailed down the state's 32 electoral votes by a plurality of 33,401 over vice president Richard M. Nixon.

Truman Pleased

INDEPENDENCE, Mo. (UPI) —Former President Harry S. Truman, who campaigned strenuously for Sen. John F. Kennedy, commented soberly Wednesday that Kennedy's election was "good for the nation and the world."

17 Women, Including Two Senators, On Capitol Hill

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Margaret Chase Smith and Maurine Neuberger Wednesday became the first two women in history to be elected simultaneously to the Senate for full six-year terms.

They will sit on opposite sides of the Senate aisle since Mrs. Smith is a Republican and Mrs. Neuberger a Democrat.

It will be the first time since 1954 that Sen. Smith has had female company in the Senate. That year a Nebraska woman was elected to fill a two-month vacancy.

Sen. Smith's victory in Maine Tuesday meant her third straight six-year term. Mrs. Neuberger was elected to the Oregon seat held by her husband before his death earlier this year.

Mrs. Smith also was involved in another female "first"—the first woman vs woman contest for a Senate seat in history. She defeated Democrat Lucia Cormier Tuesday.

By winning in Oregon Tuesday, Mrs. Neuberger became the 10th woman to serve in the Senate, and the third to win election to a full term.

The third woman to be elected to a full Senate term was Arkansas Democrat Mrs. Hattie W. Caraway, who served 13 years and one month before her term expired on Jan. 3, 1945. She was the first woman ever to be chairman of a Senate committee.

The 1960 election almost brought off another first — the highest total number of women in Congress. As it is, 15 women were elected to the House. This means the 87th Congress will match the record high of 17 females who served in the last Congress.

Irish Patrol Ambushed In Congo; 10 Of 11 Slain

ELISABETHVILLE, the Congo (AP)—The United Nations said Wednesday a patrol of 11 Irish soldiers was ambushed and cut down by rebellious tribesmen in the jungles of northeastern Katanga Tuesday. A wounded man and four bodies were found. The six missing men are believed also to have been slaughtered.

The one known survivor, a seriously hurt private, saved himself by feigning death.

The patrol, including a lieutenant, was attacked near Niemba, west of Albertville on Lake Tanganyika. Albertville is about 400 miles northeast of Elisabethville, the Katanga capital.

The attack took place in late evening as the 11 Irishmen, riding in two jeeps, crossed a bridge over a small river.

Uniforms of the missing men were found near the bodies.

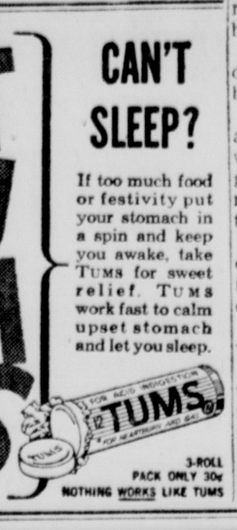

The deaths brought to about 30 the number of fatal casualties suffered by the U.N. forces in their four-month-old Congo operation.

Heavy units of Irish and Ethiopian troops were sent into the area.

A sergent in the Irish contingent said, "As far as I know, the ambush took place when the boys came across a roadblock on that bridge. They all got out of their jeeps to remove it when they were suddenly surrounded by about 100 Balubas. This has often happened to the boys in the past and they have always managed to talk their way out of tough spots. This time I guess they did not make it."

"One chap who escaped said the others who were taken were still alive. We can only pray for them," the sergeant said.

The Baluba tribesmen in northern Katanga have been waging a guerrilla war against President Moise Tshombe, who pulled his province out of the Congo soon after the old Belgian colony became independent June 30. In an effort to end the fighting between the tribesmen and Katanga troops, the United Nations set up a neutral zone in the area and put Irish and Ethiopian troops there to police it.

Two Dangling Painters Saved As 700 Cheer

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—For half an hour Wednesday two sign painters clung to ropes on a scaffold that had given way at the top of a 10-story building in midcity.

A crowd of over 700 watched, some on tiptoe, as firemen maneuvered a 100-foot aerial ladder to within a couple of feet of the dangling men.

And the spectators burst into cheers and applause when the painters finally were rescued.

The two—Charles Bremme, 25, and John Krause, 45, working for an outdoor advertising firm—were sent to the building to paint over a big sign just under the roof. The sign read: "Vote for Nixon and Lodge—experience counts."

Working with another painter, Harry Leon, 25, the two lowered the 20-foot scaffold. They were on it, Leon atop the roof. One of the ropes slipped, the scaffold dropped to a slant of about 45 degrees, with Bremme hanging on the lower end.

Both men held fast to ropes as the scaffold swung pendulum-fashion. Leon was unable to help them. All three screamed for help.

Election Blow To James Hoffa

WASHINGTON (AP)—James R. Hoffa, the Teamsters Union chief, scored a spectacular flop in trying to purge from Congress a group of House members who ran counter to his wishes on 1959 labor legislation.

Out of 40 such House members actively opposed by the leadership of the vast Teamsters organization only one has been defeated.

Thirty-nine were elected again in Tuesday's balloting despite Hoffa's opposition.

This was not Hoffa's greatest blow in the Tuesday election, however. The election of John F. Kennedy to the White House apparently was a much bigger cause of worry for him.

The Teamsters Union chief actively campaigned against Kennedy, never, however, quite urging Teamsters to vote for Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

Hoffa merely stated over and over that Kennedy and his brother, Robert, former chief counsel of the Senate rackets committee, were bent on destroying both Hoffa and the Teamsters Union.

Worker Crushed By Dump Truck

WASHINGTON (AP)—Phillip D. Bassford, 25, of Hollywood, Md., was crushed to death Wednesday beneath the wheels of a dump truck at Hains Point.

Bassford was employed as a truck checker on the land-fill project at the point.

Police said Bassford somehow became caught between a dump truck driven by Lester Piercy, 25, of Dunn Loring, Va., and one driven by Ernest Crowder, 34, of Kent Village, Md., and was run over by Piercy's truck.

Kennedy Replies Warmly

"I am looking forward to working with you in the near future," Kennedy said in his reply. "The whole country is hopeful that your long experience in the service of your country can be drawn upon further in the years to come." That looked like a suggestion he might wish to draft Eisenhower for great missions.

And then the senator, the youngest man and the first Roman Catholic ever to be elected to his country's presidency, turned to the matter of his own presidency.

Conscious of the long presidential race, in which he was assured of victory only a short while before when Minnesota fell into his columns, Kennedy addressed his public remarks to all citizens, Democrats, Republicans and independents, "regardless of how they voted" in Tuesday's elections.

"It is a satisfying moment to me," he said, "and I want to express my appreciation to all of them and to Mr. Nixon personally."

He flashed the smile that had campaign crowds screaming on the long trail to the White House, and said: "So now, my wife and I prepare for a new administration and for a new baby." They are expecting their second child in a few weeks.

Under questioning, Kennedy said he will be going away in a few days for a rest, presumably to Palm Beach, Fla., and would have nothing to say about the personnel of his administration until later. But, he did say he would disclose, within the next 24 hours, the appointment of liaison men to consult with the administration on problems involved in the transfer of government.

holdovers whose seats were not up in this year's voting.

The major election upset, aside from the big overturn of House liberals, many of whom had won their seats in 1958 from usually Republican areas, was the defeat of Sen. Allen J. Frear Jr., D-Del., in his campaign for a third term. Republican Gov. J. Caleb Boggs won Frear's seat, although Delaware gave its three electoral votes to Kennedy and chose a Democratic governor.

ognized the Soviet Union. Roosevelt met with Premier Joseph Stalin at various times when America and the U.S.S.R. were allies in World War II.

Kennedy took one tack all through the campaign—he wants "to get America moving again." The implication that it hasn't been moving under Eisenhower annoyed the President.

A White House caller, Ambassador C. Burke Elbrick, told reporters the President was "not happy about the results of the election."

But, as is customary after America votes, all the public talk was on uniting and working together for the good of the country.

Legislative Council Backs More State Scholarships

BALTIMORE (AP)—Maryland's Legislative Council Wednesday endorsed measures to reorganize and expand the State scholarship program and to create a Baltimore metropolitan transit authority.

The two proposals were approved without debate, but resistance is expected on both measures in the 1961 legislative session.

The council, in its final meeting before the General Assembly convenes, also heard criticism of the State parks administration.

In another action, it sent to the legislature without comment a proposal for expanding the authority of the Tidewater Fisheries Commission.

The new scholarship program was recommended by a committee headed by Del. Blair Lee, D-Montgomery. It would increase the number of awards by 1,412 to a total of 2,939.

Basic awards of $500 in most cases would cover tuition costs only, cutting out room and board allowances. A new board would be created to administer the scholarships instead of the State Board of Education.

The measure was endorsed with no expressed opposition. Sen. Samual W. Barrick, D-Frederick, had asked for opportunity to register objections to the program but did not appear.

Both the scholarship and transit authority proposals have been the subject of major controversy, but neither drew debated Wednesday.

The transit proposal would create an authority to regulate and, if necessary, buy and operate transit systems in Baltimore City, Baltimore County and Anne Arundel County.

Its chances of being enacted to include Anne Arundel County are slim because Sen. Louis N. Phipps, D-Anne Arundel, has said he intends to exclude his county.

Del. Ridgely P. Melvin, D-Anne Arundel, told the council the county delegation in the House of Delegates has not decided how it stands on the measure.

The criticism of the state parks administration came from Del. William Houck, D - Frederick, chairman of a special committee studying parks. Most of Houck's remarks were directed against Joseph F. Kaylor, director of the Department of Forests and Parks.

Houck demanded the department adopt a long-range program and make use of funds already appropriated for park development. He said apparently little attention has been paid to recommendations of State planning agencies.

The Frederick delegate recommended his committee's study be continued. He said park development has been stepped up since his group was organized.

Laotian Clash

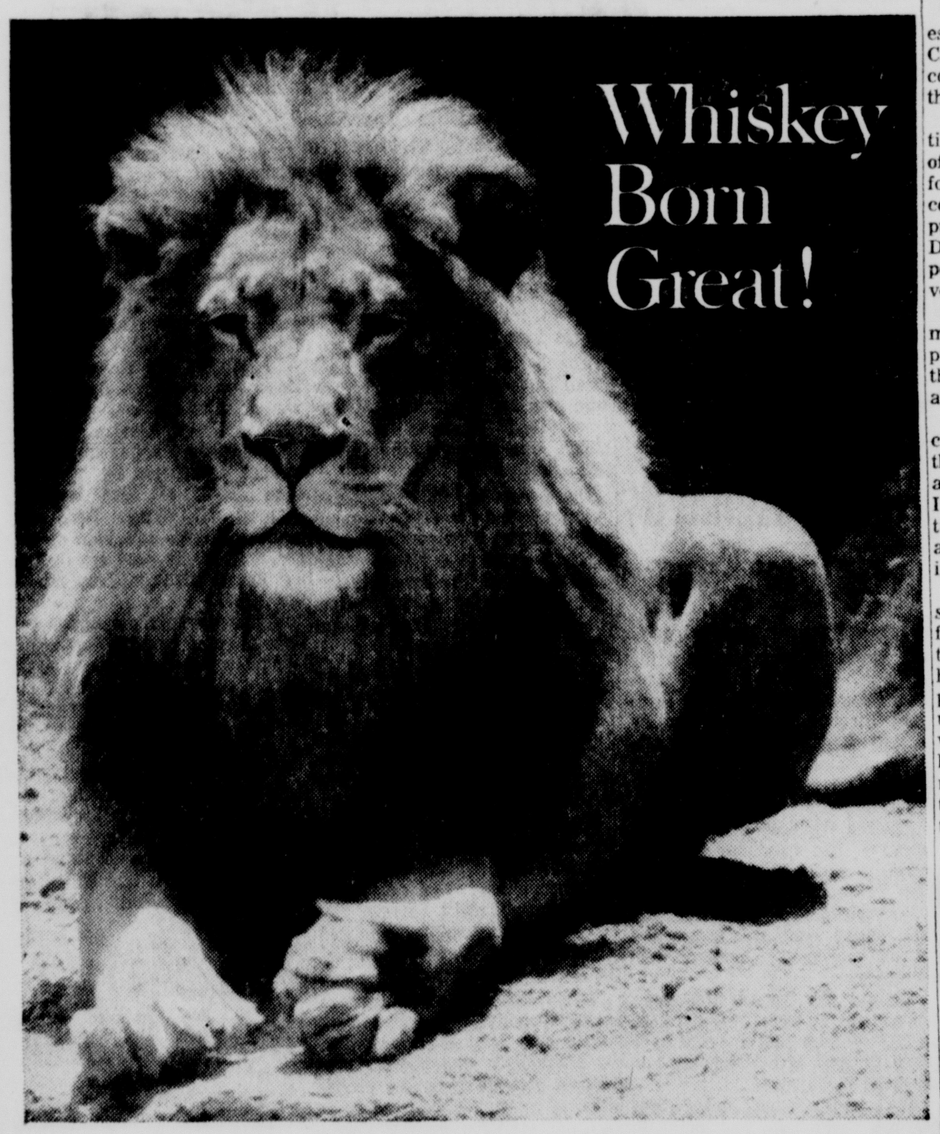

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—Government sources said a 35-man platoon of Premier Prince Souvanna Phouma's army killed three rebels loyal to rightist Gen. Phoumi Mosavan in a skirmish Wednesday. They reported the platoon suffered only one wounded in repulsing an attack by a rebel company at Pakhadinh village, 100 miles southeast of this city.

And the spectators burst into cheers and applause when the painters finally were rescued.

The two—Charles Bremme, 25, and John Krause, 45, working for an outdoor advertising firm—were sent to the building to paint over a big sign just under the roof. The sign read: "Vote for Nixon and Lodge—experience counts."

Working with another painter, Harry Leon, 25, the two lowered the 20-foot scaffold. They were on it, Leon atop the roof. One of the ropes slipped, the scaffold dropped to a slant of about 45 degrees, with Bremme hanging on the lower end.

Both men held fast to ropes as the scaffold swung pendulum-fashion. Leon was unable to help them. All three screamed for help.

Worker Crushed By Dump Truck

WASHINGTON (AP)—Phillip D. Bassford, 25, of Hollywood, Md., was crushed to death Wednesday beneath the wheels of a dump truck at Hains Point.

Bassford was employed as a truck checker on the land-fill project at the point.

Police said Bassford somehow became caught between a dump truck driven by Lester Piercy, 25, of Dunn Loring, Va., and one driven by Ernest Crowder, 34, of Kent Village, Md., and was run over by Piercy's truck.

Kennedy Replies Warmly

"I am looking forward to working with you in the near future," Kennedy said in his reply. "The whole country is hopeful that your long experience in the service of your country can be drawn upon further in the years to come." That looked like a suggestion he might wish to draft Eisenhower for great missions.

And then the senator, the youngest man and the first Roman Catholic ever to be elected to his country's presidency, turned to the matter of his own presidency.

Conscious of the long presidential race, in which he was assured of victory only a short while before when Minnesota fell into his columns, Kennedy addressed his public remarks to all citizens, Democrats, Republicans and independents, "regardless of how they voted" in Tuesday's elections.

"It is a satisfying moment to me," he said, "and I want to express my appreciation to all of them and to Mr. Nixon personally."

He flashed the smile that had campaign crowds screaming on the long trail to the White House, and said: "So now, my wife and I prepare for a new administration and for a new baby." They are expecting their second child in a few weeks.

Under questioning, Kennedy said he will be going away in a few days for a rest, presumably to Palm Beach, Fla., and would have nothing to say about the personnel of his administration until later. But, he did say he would disclose, within the next 24 hours, the appointment of liaison men to consult with the administration on problems involved in the transfer of government.

holdovers whose seats were not up in this year's voting.

The major election upset, aside from the big overturn of House liberals, many of whom had won their seats in 1958 from usually Republican areas, was the defeat of Sen. Allen J. Frear Jr., D-Del., in his campaign for a third term. Republican Gov. J. Caleb Boggs won Frear's seat, although Delaware gave its three electoral votes to Kennedy and chose a Democratic governor.

ognized the Soviet Union. Roosevelt met with Premier Joseph Stalin at various times when America and the U.S.S.R. were allies in World War II.

Kennedy took one tack all through the campaign—he wants "to get America moving again." The implication that it hasn't been moving under Eisenhower annoyed the President.

A White House caller, Ambassador C. Burke Elbrick, told reporters the President was "not happy about the results of the election."

But, as is customary after America votes, all the public talk was on uniting and working together for the good of the country.

Legislative Council Backs More State Scholarships

BALTIMORE (AP)—Maryland's Legislative Council Wednesday endorsed measures to reorganize and expand the State scholarship program and to create a Baltimore metropolitan transit authority.

The two proposals were approved without debate, but resistance is expected on both measures in the 1961 legislative session.

The council, in its final meeting before the General Assembly convenes, also heard criticism of the State parks administration.

In another action, it sent to the legislature without comment a proposal for expanding the authority of the Tidewater Fisheries Commission.

The new scholarship program was recommended by a committee headed by Del. Blair Lee, D-Montgomery. It would increase the number of awards by 1,412 to a total of 2,939.

Basic awards of $500 in most cases would cover tuition costs only, cutting out room and board allowances. A new board would be created to administer the scholarships instead of the State Board of Education.

The measure was endorsed with no expressed opposition. Sen. Samual W. Barrick, D-Frederick, had asked for opportunity to register objections to the program but did not appear.

Both the scholarship and transit authority proposals have been the subject of major controversy, but neither drew debated Wednesday.

The transit proposal would create an authority to regulate and, if necessary, buy and operate transit systems in Baltimore City, Baltimore County and Anne Arundel County.

Its chances of being enacted to include Anne Arundel County are slim because Sen. Louis N. Phipps, D-Anne Arundel, has said he intends to exclude his county.

Del. Ridgely P. Melvin, D-Anne Arundel, told the council the county delegation in the House of Delegates has not decided how it stands on the measure.

The criticism of the state parks administration came from Del. William Houck, D-Frederick, chairman of a special committee studying parks. Most of Houck's remarks were directed against Joseph F. Kaylor, director of the Department of Forests and Parks.

Houck demanded the department adopt a long-range program and make use of funds already appropriated for park development. He said apparently little attention has been paid to recommendations of State planning agencies.

The Frederick delegate recommended his committee's study be continued. He said park development has been stepped up since his group was organized.

Laotian Clash

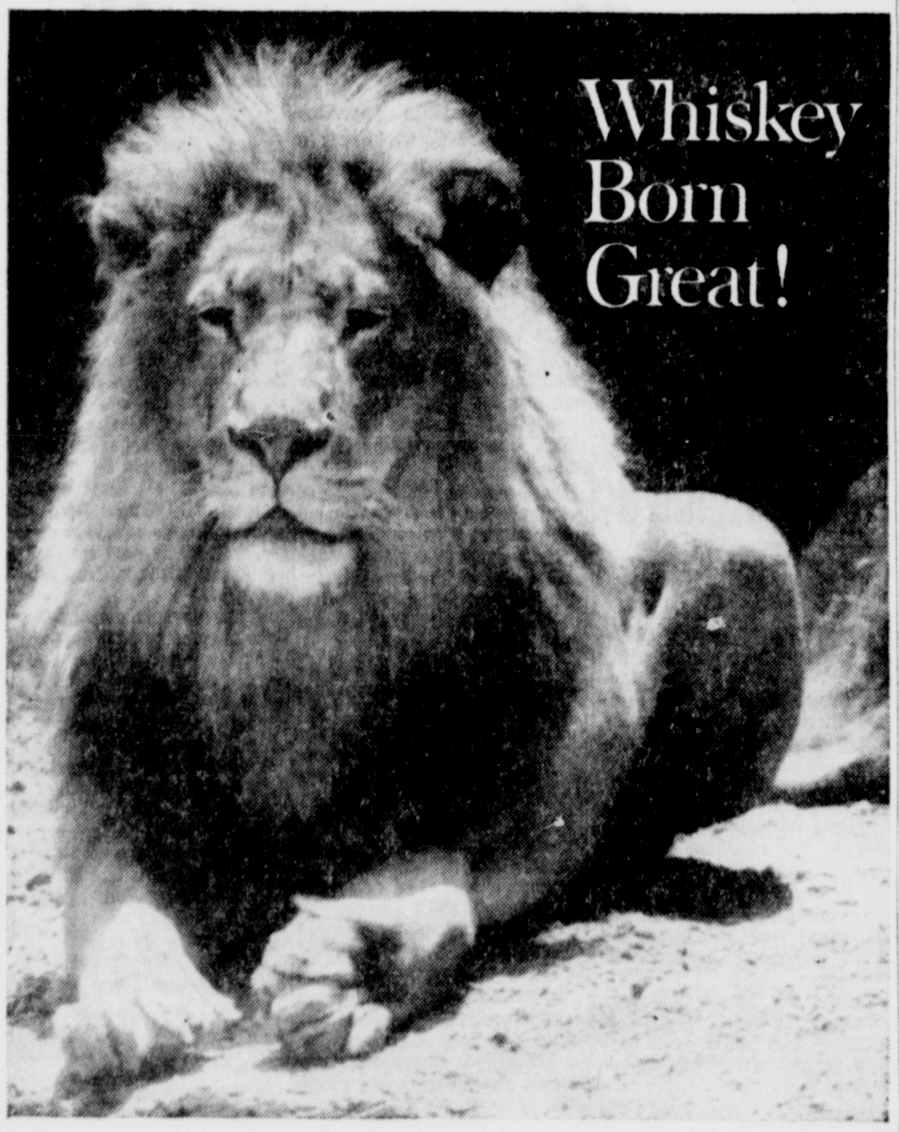

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—Government sources said a 35-man platoon of Premier Prince Souvanna Phouma's army killed three rebels loyal to rightist Gen. Phoumi Mosavan in a skirmish Wednesday. They reported the platoon suffered only one wounded in repulsing an attack by a rebel company at Pakhadinh village, 100 miles southeast of this city.

New Potomac Pact Approved By Voters

BALTIMORE (AP) — Maryland voters have approved a new compact with Virginia which will place the Potomac River's once-controversial fishery under joint control of an agency of the two states.

The bi-state agency is expected to go to work after returns from Tuesday's general election ratifying the compact have been certified and Congress has given its approval to the 1958 treaty.

The fate of the compact, which was petitioned onto the Maryland ballot by Southern Maryland watermen opposed to the agency, had remained in doubt until Wednesday afternoon when populous Baltimore County came in with its unofficial returns.

The county surrounding Baltimore City, where opposition to the compact was strong, voted 58,320 to 47,621 in favor of it, according to complete unofficial returns.

This was the last big stronghold of votes and boosted unofficial returns to 229,882 in favor of ratification and 196,914 against — a margin of 32,968 votes — with only 67 of the state's 1,338 polling places still to be heard from.

These polling places are scattered through eight counties, five of which were going against the compact by various margins, in early returns, and also include two of Baltimore City's 572 polling places. Cecil County, at the northern tip of Maryland's Eastern Shore, had not been heard from at all on the issue.

But if their overall net result is against the compact, it would not substantially reduce the margin, according to present trends. The city, with the biggest bloc of votes against it, rejected the compact by only 16,107 votes.

Big Montgomery County, on the fringes of the District of Columbia, more than offset this vote, and Baltimore County made ratification certain. Populous Prince Georges, also fringing the District of Columbia, helped push through ratification with a margin of 9,760 votes.

The compact, designed to restore peace and promote development of the Potomac, had become a campaign issue between Republicans and Democrats, with the GOP leadership opposed and the Democratic state administration and candidates favoring it.

Dr. H. C. Byrd, chairman of Maryland's Tidewater Fisheries Commission, hailed the approval as "the biggest thing that has ever happened for the Potomac River and particularly for the watermen of the counties who border it."

"The people of the State have shown excellent judgment and have done something that will redound to the advantage of the seafood industry and, eventually, the general economy of the state," Byrd said.

Southern Marylanders would be the last to agree with him that they will benefit. Their watermen led the fight to reject the compact, and St. Marys County voted against it 4,210 to 1,098. Charles County, which also borders the river, rejected it 3,325 to 1,771.

Other counties with complete unofficial returns who voted against were Allegany and Garrett in Republican Western Maryland, and Washington County, where former Democratic Gov. William Preston Lane Jr. had opposed it.

Opposing it in incomplete returns were Calvert, Caroline, Queen Annes and Talbot, all on Chesapeake Bay.

Others voting in favor of the compact included Anne Arundel, Carroll, Dorchester, Frederick, Harford, Howard, Kent and Worcester counties. With returns incomplete, voters of Somerset and Wicomico counties also were favoring ratification.

The compact is an effort to settle differences between Maryland and Virginia which have existed since 1785, when Maryland gave Virginia equal fishing rights in the Potomac in return for free passage of Maryland ships through the Virginia capes.

GOP 'Stumped' By Kennedy's Maryland Win

BALTIMORE (AP) — Sen. John F. Kennedy's capture of Maryland's nine electoral votes left Republicans groping for an explanation and Democrats eager to supply a raft of them Wednesday.

"It was a combination of factors," said Democratic State Chairman Thomas B. Finan.

He spoke of issues, "a certain almost indefinable appeal" that Kennedy has, the television debates, overwhelming support from "minority groups throughout the state," effective party organization, and the statewide campaign bus tour led by Gov. Tawes.

Big Joe Curnane, puffing on a cigar in the day-after-election eerie quiet of Democratic headquarters, had something to add.

"Don't forget labor," said Curnane, Kennedy's liaison man for Maryland. "Those boys did a tremendous job for us, especially in Baltimore County."

In winning Maryland by more than 78,000 votes and reversing a trend which had seen Republicans win the state in the last three presidential elections, Kennedy did best in Baltimore City. He stacked up an 88,000-vote majority there, sweeping 27 of the 28 wards —all but the 12th, a well-to-do section near the Johns Hopkins University campus.

Republican officials had hoped they could hold Kennedy's city margin to 40,000 or 45,000. They were confident Vice President Nixon could overcome this in the counties. He didn't.

Probably the biggest Republican disappointment outside the city was Baltimore County, which gave President Eisenhower a 55,000-vote margin only four years ago. This time Nixon barely carried it by 1,230 votes out of more than 188,000 cast.

Nixon supporters also had hoped to do better in Montgomery County, one of the nation's wealthiest and similar in composition to Baltimore County. Eisenhower won there by nearly 14,000 four years ago, but Kennedy carried it by more than 3,000 out of 124,000 cast.

John C. Ahlers, publicity chairman for the Republican campaign, summed up the frustration of his fellow party officials.

"I just don't know," he said. "We didn't discuss it in any great detail after it was over. We can't think of anything that we should have done and didn't do."

Almost hesitantly, however, Ahlers noted that Republican strength had sagged badly in Baltimore neighborhoods heavily populated by Negroes.

Demolition Men Remove Shell From Home

BALTIMORE (AP) — An Army Demolition squad was called to a Baltimore apartment house Wednesday to remove an eight-inch-long mortar shell from a basement shelf.

The shell, believed to be active, was dated 1941.

It was found by Roy Whittington, a maintenance man who was checking a gas line in the basement of the apartment house.

After spotting the mortar sitting on a shelf, Whittington called the Aberdeen Proving Ground demolition squad.

Demolition men said the safety wire was still fastened on the shell, which bore the inscription 10 mm. TNT Shell, 1941.

A janitor at the apartments said the shell had been sitting on the shelf for at least 15 years. The explosive was taken to the Aberdeen Proving Ground where it will be destroyed.

Stops Constipation Due to "Aging Colon"

New laxative discovery re-creates 3 essentials for normal regularity.

As you grow older, the internal muscles of your colon wall also age, lose the strength that propels waste from the body. Stagnant bowel contents become so dry and shrunken that they fail to stimulate the urge to purge.

Relief, doctors say, lies in a new laxative principle. Old-style bulks and moisteners may create gas, take 3 or 4 days for relief. Old-style salts and drugs cramp and gripe the entire system. Of all laxatives, only new COLONAID gives you its special 3-way relief that works only on the lower colon (area of constipation).

(1) COLONAID moisturizes dry, hardened waste for easy passage without pain or strain. (2) COLONAID'S unequalled rebulking action helps retone flabby colon muscles. (3) And COLONAID acts gently, on the nerve reflexes that stimulate the vital "mass movement" of your lower colon.

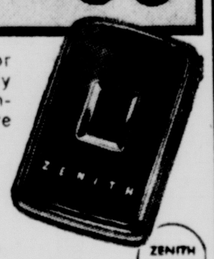

COLONAID relieves even chronic constipation overnight; is so gentle it was hospital proved safe even for expectant mothers. And COLONAID won't interfere with absorption of vitamins or other food nutrients. Get COLONAID today! INTRODUCTORY SIZE 43¢

Demolition Men Remove Shell From Home

BALTIMORE (AP) — An Army Demolition squad was called to a Baltimore apartment house Wednesday to remove an eight-inch-long mortar shell from a basement shelf.

The shell, believed to be active, was dated 1941.

It was found by Roy Whittington, a maintenance man who was checking a gas line in the basement of the apartment house.

After spotting the mortar sitting on a shelf, Whittington called the Aberdeen Proving Ground demolition squad.

Demolition men said the safety wire was still fastened on the shell, which bore the inscription 10 mm. TNT Shell, 1941.

A janitor at the apartments said the shell had been sitting on the shelf for at least 15 years. The explosive was taken to the Aberdeen Proving Ground where it will be destroyed.

Stops Constipation Due to "Aging Colon"

New laxative discovery re-creates 3 essentials for normal regularity.

As you grow older, the internal muscles of your colon wall also age, lose the strength that propels waste from the body. Stagnant bowel contents become so dry and shrunken that they fail to stimulate the urge to purge.

Relief, doctors say, lies in a new laxative principle. Old-style bulks and moisteners may create gas, take 3 or 4 days for relief. Old-style salts and drugs cramp and gripe the entire system. Of all laxatives, only new COLONAID gives you its special 3-way relief that works only on the lower colon (area of constipation).

(1) COLONAID moisturizes dry, hardened waste for easy passage without pain or strain. (2) COLONAID'S unequalled rebulking action helps retone flabby colon muscles. (3) And COLONAID acts gently, on the nerve reflexes that stimulate the vital "mass movement" of your lower colon.

COLONAID relieves even chronic constipation overnight; is so gentle it was hospital proved safe even for expectant mothers. And COLONAID won't interfere with absorption of vitamins or other food nutrients. Get COLONAID today! INTRODUCTORY SIZE 43¢

Four Face Hearing In Beer Theft

A 20-year-old local man was arrested Tuesday morning by city police in connection with the theft of eight cases of beer from a parked tractor-trailer truck on October 16.

William H. Harmon of 216 Columbia Street, according to Police, will be given a hearing on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a minor. Three teen-age boys also implicated in the theft will be given a hearing, they said.

City Police Detective Captain James E. Van said the four will be tried Monday at 10 a. m. in Juvenile Court.

Harmon signed a statement taken by Captain Van who was assisted in the investigation by Detective Thomas J. See.

Meanwhile two 16-year-old local boys, accused of spitting in the face of a B&O freight train flagman, are scheduled to be given a hearing today at 11 a. m. in Juvenile Court on charges of being delinquent.

They were arrested by local authorities and later released in custody of their parents pending the hearing.

Pictures Are Sought Of Old Dunkard Church

Have any readers of this paper any pictures of the rear of the old Dunkard Church that stood on the Battlefield of Antietam, near Sharpsburg, in 1862? The National Park Service is going to rebuild the church as part of the nationwide Civil War Centennial, which begins next year, and it very much needs a picture. At present it has views of only the church's front and sides.

The Park Service would also appreciate definite information about the church's interior, especially facts about the layout of the building, the location of significant objects, the shape and pattern of the pews and their arrangement. The church, built in 1853, was destroyed by a storm in 1921. It is believed that some of the furniture was salvaged by historically-minded people at the time of the destruction, and the Park Service is anxious to get in touch with anyone who may have such objects.

The Battle of Antietam, fought September 17, 1862, was one of the decisive engagements of the war. It checked the Confederate march on the National Capital that year, as the Battle of Gettysburg did the year following.

It was also the most terrible battle of American history up to that time, as far as casualties went. Some 23,000 thousand men fell there in one day, the Old Dunkard Church served as a field hospital throughout the fighting.

Anyone who can aid the National Park Service in the planned reconstruction of the church should get in touch with the superintendent of the National Battlefield Site, Sharpsburg, Maryland, or the Division of Tourist Development, the Department of Economic Development, State Office Building, Annapolis, Maryland.

Pictures submitted for the purpose of helping the restoration project will be copied and returned to the owners. The Park Service hopes to be ready to begin the reconstruction by next June.

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
Pass	Pass	2 ♥	Pass
3 ♥	Pass	6 ♥	Double
Pass	Pass	Pass

Opening lead: Ten of ♠

The quest for an additional 50 points proved very costly to West in today's hand for in the absence of the information provided by his double of the six heart contract, declarer would surely have gone set.

West opened the ten of spades which South won in his own hand. Under normal circumstances declarer would drive out the ace of hearts and permit his fate to hinge on the diamond finesse.

However, in view of the double against such vigorous bidding, surely West was marked with the ace of trumps, and the king of diamonds. The case seemed hopeless until declarer suddenly visualized a holding that would permit fulfilment of the contract against any subsequent defense. It involved finding West with the lone ace of hearts. Whereupon South played the ace of clubs and ruffed the little one in dummy. He then cashed off the remaining two spades, and at the sixth trick got out with a heart. West was in with his hands tied. Regardless of his return, declarer had the rest of the tricks. A diamond lead would permit dummy's queen to win, and the lead of a black suit afforded declarer a ruff in dummy as he discarded the low diamond from his own hand.

West could have defeated the contract only by choice of the winning lead, and that lead, strangely enough, was the ace of trumps, and analysis will show that it has great merit. That declarer's trumps are solid there can be no doubt. It is also clear that West need not play an attacking role, that the waiting game is more in order. West should rid himself of the burden of having to lead more than once, and this he can accomplish by cashing the ace of hearts at the outset and getting out gracefully with the ten of spades at a time when the getting out is good.

Ann Landers . . .

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN: I could make a million off my life's story, but it's so fantastic nobody would believe it.

I met this man in a bus depot. (I'll call him Clark because he did look a little like Gable.) I was coming home from a trip and there he was, hungry, broke and homeless. I talked to him for a long time and he seemed refined and educated. I know you'll say I was foolish but I took him home. I'm a widow without chick or child and I have a nice, well-paying job.

I helped Clark find work, bought him a good suit, and gave him free room and board. In return he gave me affection and was grand company.

For two years he accepted my hospitality. I was sure he'd ask me to marry him eventually. Last week the shock came. He told me he was going to marry the woman across the street. I had no idea he was even seeing her. Are there any decent men left?

—HOODWINKED

Dear Hood: There are plenty of decent men left — but they aren't moving into women's homes and sponging room and board in exchange for their "grand company."

If you wanted to help the man you should have found him a job and not gone for the rooming-in arrangement.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I'm the spokesman for four college sophomores age 19—two boys and two girls.

We planned a weekend trip together, about 200 miles from here. We thought it best to tell our parents well in advance. Well, we were shocked to learn that they were all against it. They said it wouldn't look nice and that we couldn't go.

We are all good, clean kids and resent the implication. Please be on our side and print the answer.—MISUNDERSTOOD

DEAR MISUNDERSTOOD: I AM on your side, and this is why I must tell you that two teen-age couples should not be going off on an unchaperoned weekend.

I'm not suggesting that you can't be trusted. You may well have the highest standards in town. But if you want to be considered respectable you must live within the framework of society's conventions.

Young girls have lost their heads under less attractive circumstances than you describe. They didn't INTEND to, but the temptation was overpowering and the controls went out the window.

If you are intent on the trip, invite one set of parents along. They won't cramp your style.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I have a friend who has offered to sing at my wedding. Before you tell me "That's nice" I'd like to tell you she can't carry a tune in a bucket.

She has brought up this subject four times and I don't know what to say to her. She's a very nice person, although quite pushy, but we've been close for years and I would hate to lose her friendship.

My mother says I should let her sing and that people will know she's not a professional, but a friend who is singing, for sentimental reasons. I DON'T WANT HER to sing. What shall I do?—CORNERED

DEAR CORNERED: Engage a professional violinist, organist or harpist at once. And ask your friend to be a bridesmaid.

Ann Landers . . .

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN: I could make a million off my life's story, but it's so fantastic nobody would believe it.

I met this man in a bus depot. (I'll call him Clark because he did look a little like Gable.) I was coming home from a trip and there he was, hungry, broke and homeless. I talked to him for a long time and he seemed refined and educated. I know you'll say I was foolish but I took him home. I'm a widow without chick or child and I have a nice, well-paying job.

I helped Clark find work, bought him a good suit, and gave him free room and board. In return he gave me affection and was grand company.

For two years he accepted my hospitality. I was sure he'd ask me to marry him eventually. Last week the shock came. He told me he was going to marry the woman across the street. I had no idea he was even seeing her. Are there any decent men left?

—HOODWINKED

Dear Hood: There are plenty of decent men left — but they aren't moving into women's homes and sponging room and board in exchange for their "grand company."

If you wanted to help the man you should have found him a job and not gone for the rooming-in arrangement.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I'm the spokesman for four college sophomores age 19—two boys and two girls.

We planned a weekend trip together, about 200 miles from here. We thought it best to tell our parents well in advance. Well, we were shocked to learn that they were all against it. They said it wouldn't look nice and that we couldn't go.

We are all good, clean kids and resent the implication. Please be on our side and print the answer.—MISUNDERSTOOD

DEAR MISUNDERSTOOD: I AM on your side, and this is why I must tell you that two teen-age couples should not be going off on an unchaperoned weekend.

I'm not suggesting that you can't be trusted. You may well have the highest standards in town. But if you want to be considered respectable you must live within the framework of society's conventions.

Young girls have lost their heads under less attractive circumstances than you describe. They didn't INTEND to, but the temptation was overpowering and the controls went out the window.

If you are intent on the trip, invite one set of parents along. They won't cramp your style.

Teacher Supply Study Is Asked By Governor

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—The Legislative Council has been asked by Gov. Tawes to determine how the Warfield Commission report would affect the flow of elementary teachers into Maryland's school system.

In making the request for a study, Gov. Tawes also directed the council to consider the possibility of setting up an undergraduate branch of the University of Maryland in Baltimore.

Such a branch, Tawes said, would help "meet the need of an additional liberal arts college in that location."

The governor had endorsed the controversial Warfield report "in principle," but his action Tuesday indicated he might not press for adoption of it during January's session of the Legislature.

The Warfield Commission, appointed by the governor last year, recommended that expansion of the University of Maryland be implemented by the absorption of three State teachers colleges — Salisbury, Towson and Frostburg.

Another step in the proposal recommended the establishment of new university centers to serve Washington and Frederick Counties, the Central Eastern Shore and Southern Maryland.

In requesting legislative council study, Tawes said the teacher problem was "one point in the existing controversy which requires an impartial answer."

"In facing this problem," the governor said, "we must put to one side the obvious fact that the present system has failed miserbly to meet even the minimum requirements of our State."

PROMOTED—Fred R. Cuppett, a veteran of 30 years service with the gas company, has been named division superintendent for Manufacturers Light and Heat Company at State Line, Pa. He succeeds W. H. Hann, who retired recently, and will supervise the 33 men who operate more than 950 miles of gas supply lines into this area. He and his wife, Ruth, live at Addison, Pa.

Firemen Check Brush Fire Here

County Democrats Pleased With Vote

In view of Nixon victories in many Maryland counties, where Democrats held book majorities, the vote for Kennedy and Johnson in Allegany County was most gratifying, the Democratic campaign committee said yesterday.

The committee pointed out that this county, which has the largest Republican book majority in the state, made a real contribution to the victory.

"Despite the record size of the vote, which obviously helped the Republicans here, the Nixon majority was approximately 3,000 less than President Eisenhower got in 1956," the committee said. "There is genuine regret at Congressman Foley's loss, but, actually, taking into consideration the record size of the vote, the Mathias majority in this county was approximately the same as Congressman Hyde had over Foley in 1956," the committee added.

Rec Sessions Well Attended

During October, the City Recreation Department sponsored 50 hours of various activities in which 935 persons participated, according to C. Eugene Mason, director.

Eight bridge playing and lesson sessions were attended by 228 persons.

Two Senior Citizens Club meetings drew 70 participants and a Coin Club meeting was attended by 57 members.

Touch football activity included the organization of four high school teams. Twelve adult games had 360 participants and eight high school games attracted 240 students.

The department loaned two picnic kits, three records and one public address system.

'Open House' Set At Armory Friday

The program will be open to family and friends of members of Company "C" and all former members of the unit.

Several displays will be set up at the armory and movies will be shown.

Teacher Supply Study Is Asked By Governor

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—The Legislative Council has been asked by Gov. Tawes to determine how the Warfield Commission report would affect the flow of elementary teachers into Maryland's school system.

In making the request for a study, Gov. Tawes also directed the council to consider the possibility of setting up an undergraduate branch of the University of Maryland in Baltimore.

Such a branch, Tawes said, would help "meet the need of an additional liberal arts college in that location."

The governor had endorsed the controversial Warfield report "in principle," but his action Tuesday indicated he might not press for adoption of it during January's session of the Legislature.

The Warfield Commission, appointed by the governor last year, recommended that expansion of the University of Maryland be implemented by the absorption of three State teachers colleges — Salisbury, Towson and Frostburg.

Another step in the proposal recommended the establishment of new university centers to serve Washington and Frederick Counties, the Central Eastern Shore and Southern Maryland.

In requesting legislative council study, Tawes said the teacher problem was "one point in the existing controversy which requires an impartial answer."

"In facing this problem," the governor said, "we must put to one side the obvious fact that the present system has failed miserably to meet even the minimum requirements of our State."

Twigg Again Heads County Farm Bureau

James R. Twigg, Walnut Ridge Road, has been reelected president of the Alleghany County Farm Bureau for 1961.

Woman To Woman

By PATRICIA McCORMACK

NEW YORK (UPI) — Getting musical about world tensions, one female finds hope for peace in the fact that the greatest Russian tunes are songs of love — not melodies of war.

Jennie Tourel, world-famous mezzo-soprano, said in an interview:

"You can't legislate against romance, and throughout the ages, Russians have traditionally been a very romantic people."

Miss Tourel, Russian by ancestry, French by upbringing and American by adoption is one of the foremost interpreters of the love songs of her forebears, 16 of which she recently recorded for a Decca disc entitled "Russian Love Songs."

"Bourgeois romance survives proletarian legislation," she said, "giving supporters of rival political 'isms' a basic kinship."

"When you know the love songs of Russia," she said, "you don't think of the typical Russian as a gruff, insensitive, dour-faced human in regimented ranks.

"Instead you remember that somewhere on the moonlit steppes this very night a dreamy-eyed Georgian lad may be murmuring sweet Russian nothings to a dark-haired beauty from Bolnisi. By the banks of the Tura, a torrid-tempered Tartar may be wooing a siren from Siberia in ardent verse.

"And in a cafe in Kiev, a Dnepropetrovsk Don Juan may be making passionate passes at a minx from Minsk."

Declining to encroach upon the province of statesmen and diplomats, the pert prima donna suggested that the road to world peace yet may be found through the Russian heart.

"That heart," she said, "excites to the same emotions and palpitates to the same passions that quicken a Parisian pulse or agitate a Texan throb," she said.

"Perhaps this basic kinship of peoples may prove stronger than their political differences."

Miss Tourel said she has not had the benefit of first-hand experience with the Russian as lovers. But she finds in the love songs of the great Russian composers evidence that the Slav is capable of deep and lasting love.

"It is an interesting thing, too," "that in a nation forging ahead in science and making drastic social and economic changes in the lives of its citizenry, that the basic attitude towards love continues to be almost Victorian.

"The expressions of love that we find even in fairly recent Russian poetry are apt to be downright old-fashioned by Western world standards.

"The Russian lover still is chivalrous and protective, sweet and sentimental. His ardor is there, but it is declared in idealistic rather than realistic terms."

Dixettes Leave For N. Y. Show

The group traveled in private cars with their instructor, Mrs. Verlys Dixon McPartland, and their parents.

The show will be taped today in New York to appear at a later date on the television show which is presented each Sunday over CBS.

The Dixettes made one other previous appearance on the Ted Mack Show and also have been at the Steel Pier in Atlantic City twice this past summer.

Army Delays Return

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Army announced plans Wednesday to delay by one month the return home of 36,000 soldiers scheduled to end their European tours between April and November next year.

The sending overseas of a similiar number of replacements also will be delayed by a month to ease a strain on the Army's travel expense budget.

SEEK COMMERCIALS

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — The Hollywood Advertising Club has started a search for the best TV and radio commercials produced any place in the world during 1960.

There will be 15 categories of television commercials and seven classes of radio commercials in the contest. Awards will be presented during National Advertising Week, Feb. 5-11, 1961.

BRITISH LOAN SHIP

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — The British Admiralty has agreed to assign the HMS Victory flagship of Adm. Horatio Viscount Nelson at the Battle of Trafalgar to United Artists as the set for the motion picture "Billy Budd."

As a condition, the studio was required to take out $2,800,000 insurance on the square-rigged, 100-gun vessel which is the symbol of British sea power at the turn of the 19th Century.

Allied Artists said the insurance probably was the highest ever placed on a movie set.

Total annual loss to farmers from plant diseases, insects and weeds in the United States is about $13 billion.

El Fidel Unit Plans Meetings

The El Fidel Club and El Fidel Ladies Auxiliary will meet jointly today, at Ali Ghan Shrine City Club. The meetings will begin at 7:30 p. m., with recently installed officers in charge.

The change in meetings was made due to Thanksgiving falling on the regular meeting date.

Elected officers of both organizations who were not present at the recent installation of officers will be installed at this meeting.

Beams With Pride

PONT SAINT ESPRIT, France (UPI) — This small French town beamed with pride Tuesday at the result of the U.S. presidential elections — but more for Jacqueline Kennedy than her husband, John.

Pont Saint Esprit was the birthplace of Mrs. Kennedy's ancestors and anyone with the name of Bouvier, her maiden name, was surrounded by local inhabitants and warmly congratulated.

Surveys show fewer people are now keeping written budgets.

CONTRACT APPROVED

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Twenty-year-old Jo Morrow has received court approval of her third year option of a long-term contract with Columbia Pictures.

Miss Morrow claimed international recognition last year for "Our Man in Havana." She soon will be seen as a co-star with Kerwin Mathews in "The Three Worlds of Gulliver."

Democrats In Red

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Democratic National Chairman Henry M. Jackson promised Wednesday to pull his party's finances out of the red before he resigns, probably next April!

Democrats won the presidency but went "more than $1 million in the red."

COMPLAINTS WE HEAR

THE PHARMACIST WON'T TELL YOU WHAT DRUGS ARE IN A PRESCRIPTION

The pharmacist won't tell you what drugs are in a prescription or what they do. He has no right to do so. Professional relationships between physician and pharmacist are confidential. The physician knows the patient, and his illness; the pharmacist knows the drugs, but not necessarily the doctor's purpose in prescribing the drug.

Most of today's modern drugs have a great variety of applications. The same drug may be used for fifteen or twenty different conditions none of which are related except possibly by one or two common symptoms. So you see, it would be foolhardy for any pharmacist to attempt to guess at what the doctor had in mind when he wrote a particular prescription.

At Walsh-McCagh, we do not try to second guess anyone. We are much too busy making sure that the prescriptions brought to us for filling are compounded exactly as written by the physician. When you have a prescription to be filled, you want it filled accurately, quickly, professionally and at the lowest price possible. That, in short, is what we offer.

Woman To Woman

By PATRICIA McCORMACK

NEW YORK (UPI) — Getting musical about world tensions, one female finds hope for peace in the fact that the greatest Russian tunes are songs of love — not melodies of war.

Jennie Tourel, world-famous mezzo-soprano, said in an interview:

"You can't legislate against romance, and throughout the ages, Russians have traditionally been a very romantic people."

Miss Tourel, Russian by ancestry, French by upbringing and American by adoption is one of the foremost interpreters of the love songs of her forebears, 16 of which she recently recorded for a Decca disc entitled "Russian Love Songs."

"Bourgeois romance survives proletarian legislation," she said, "giving supporters of rival political 'isms' a basic kinship."

"When you know the love songs of Russia," she said, "you don't think of the typical Russian as a gruff, insensitive, dour-faced human in regimented ranks.

"Instead you remember that somewhere on the moonlit steppes this very night a dreamy-eyed Georgian lad may be murmuring sweet Russian nothings to a dark-haired beauty from Bolnisi. By the banks of the Tura, a torrid-tempered Tartar may be wooing a siren from Siberia in ardent verse.

"And in a cafe in Kiev, a Dnepropetrovsk Don Juan may be making passionate passes at a minx from Minsk."

Declining to encroach upon the province of statesmen and diplomats, the pert prima donna suggested that the road to world peace yet may be found through the Russian heart.

"That heart," she said, "excites to the same emotions and palpitates to the same passions that quicken a Parisian pulse or agitate a Texan throb," she said.

"Perhaps this basic kinship of peoples may prove stronger than their political differences."

Miss Tourel said she has not had the benefit of first-hand experience with the Russian as lovers. But she finds in the love songs of the great Russian composers evidence that the Slav is capable of deep and lasting love.

"It is an interesting thing, too," "that in a nation forging ahead in science and making drastic social and economic changes in the lives of its citizenry, that the basic attitude towards love continues to be almost Victorian.

"The expressions of love that we find even in fairly recent Russian poetry are apt to be downright old-fashioned by Western world standards.

"The Russian lover still is chivalrous and protective, sweet and sentimental. His ardor is there, but it is declared in idealistic rather than realistic terms."

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

For Less-Perfect Legs—A Velvet Veil

A young mother has written to bemoan her legs streaked and discolored by a network of broken veins and blood vessels. Other women, I know, worry over the appearance of legs marred with freckles, moles and birthmarks, scars, varicose veins, differences in pigmentation and marble-like striations.

My advice to them is to stop worrying and start wearing leg makeup. There is no simpler and more attractive answer to this problem than expert tinting with a fine patina of foundation, covered with the added allure of sheer stockings.

In fact, all legs would look better with makeup worn under the hose. So, unless your legs are singularly even-toned and blemish-free, makeup is a nice touch to try, at least on dress-up occasions. Stockings alone can't flatter winter-white legs quite as effectively. And just think what leg makeup can mean to the barelegged winter vacationer!

An absolutely smooth leg surface comes before makeup. You must remove all the hair and keep it constantly mowed to less than a whisker. Then, you must treat the skin texture itself.

At this time of year, the skin on the legs begins to roughen because of dryness and chapping. It will improve when you add a little oil to your bath water; then, as an after-bath bonus, have your legs in hand or body lotion.

Cake makeup, exactly what you use on your face, is an excellent veil for your legs. Or you can apply regular liquid leg makeup, available at cosmetic counters. The important step after painting on either type is DRYING. Drying must be thorough. When the legs are completely dry, you are ready for the second step, BUFFING.

With a regular buffer or with cotton, rub your legs gently to a soft mat finish and even color, to the point where the makeup no longer powders.

Then, draw on your stockings—and be pleasantly prepared to inspect prettier legs than you have ever pranced on.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Dorothy Manners

(While Louella Parsons is on vacation her column will be written by Dorothy Manners.)

HOLLYWOOD — Hal Wallis made two extra decisions when he bought "Decision at Delphi" by mystery writer Helen MacInnes. The first is that he wants William Holden to star in it. Second, he wants Miss MacInnes to script her own novel, an intrigue of modern day Greece. She's best known for her best selling "North to Rome."

It's a good thing Hal plans to produce the picture in Greece because Bill Holden is interested only in working abroad. It's a big concession on the part of Wallis who prefers shooting in Hollywood no matter where his stories are set.

You can bet that when Jason Robards, Jr., gets here for "By Love Possessed," his girlfriend Lauren Bacall won't be far behind. And it isn't just love bringing "baby" back to the coast after she said a couple of years ago she was shaking our dust—and smog—permanently.

There is a deal afoot for Bacall to do "Tender Is the Night" at 20th now it looks definite that Jennifer Jones won't make it. Whether it jells or not, Lauren will probably remain glued to Robards at least while he's here making his picture with Lana Turner.

It may come as a surprise to Glenn Ford to learn that his favorite date before he took off for Paris, Hope Lange, is seeing her estranged husband, Don Murray. In fact, it comes as a bit of a surprise to Hollywood. For the past couple of weeks Hope and Don have been together constantly with Don spending most of his evenings at home with Hope and the children.

Good thing Jimmy Van Heusen booked the big room at the California Racquet Club for his party honoring Jane Morgan prior to her Cocoanut Grove debut tonight. Most of the musicians in town showed up to honor the songstress and her husband Larry Stith.

Jane, a charming blonde in a blue sequined gown, could hardly sit down she was so busy greeting Juli Wilson and her fiance, Mike McAloney; pianist Roger Williams and his pretty wife (love his records!), Miyoshi Umeki, fresh from her triumph in "Flower Drum Song"; the Nelson Riddles, John Scott Trotter, Gloria and Sammy Cahn, Hank Mancini, Harry Ruby, Jaye P. Morgan (another blonde songbird), Gene Barry and Betty, the Joe Pasternaks, John Saxon, record executive Dave Kapp and the Vinnie Flahertys (the latter non-singers).

Sat with flame-haired Rhonda Fleming and her bridegroom Lang Jeffries at the Van Heusen party and listened in as Dave Kapp tipped Rhonda that Johnny Burke wants her for his upcoming Broadway musical "Donnybrook." This is the all-Irish show based on John Ford's classic film, "The Quiet Man," now being set to the Burke tunes and lyrics.

And what did Rhonda say? "They've sent the show to me — and there's nothing I had rather do than a musical in New York. But I'm a bride — and my husband works in Hollywood. If it could be worked out —?" and she looked at Lang.

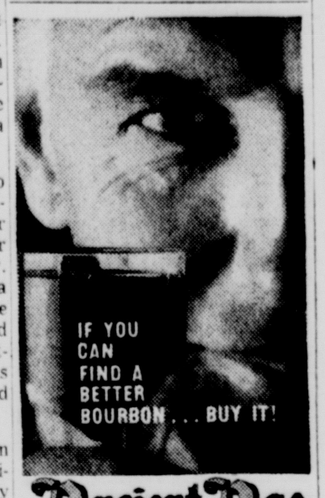

He said, "I don't like New York—but where Rhonda goes, I go."—So who knows?

Big night Friday night for Sandra Dee in Rome — she's literally going to have a ball. Along with Rock Hudson, Gina Lollobrigida and Bobby Darin, her "Come September" co-stars, Sandra will be the guest of U.S. Ambassador James D. Zellerbach at the Marine Ball at the American Embassy—the big American affair of the season.

Sandra's date was supposed to be Bobby Darin, whom she's been dating. But Ambassador Zellerbach called and told her that a courageous young Marine, Corporal Stan Valerga, had taken his commission in his hands and personally called the embassy to ask if he might escort Sandra. The ambassador thought such initiative deserved reward—and so did Sandra.

A young mother has written to bemoan her legs streaked and discolored by a network of broken veins and blood vessels. Other women, I know, worry over the appearance of legs marred with freckles, moles and birthmarks, scars, varicose veins, differences in pigmentation and marble-like striations.

My advice to them is to stop worrying and start wearing leg makeup. There is no simpler and more attractive answer to this problem than expert tinting with a fine patina of foundation, covered with the added allure of sheer stockings.

In fact, all legs would look better with makeup worn under the hose. So, unless your legs are singularly even-toned and blemish-free, makeup is a nice touch to try, at least on dress-up occasions. Stockings alone can't flatter winter-white legs quite as effectively. And just think what leg makeup can mean to the barelegged winter vacationer!

An absolutely smooth leg surface comes before makeup. You must remove all the hair and keep it constantly mowed to less than a whisker. Then, you must treat the skin texture itself.

At this time of year, the skin on the legs begins to roughen because of dryness and chapping. It will improve when you add a little oil to your bath water; then, as an after-bath bonus, have your legs in hand or body lotion.

Cake makeup, exactly what you use on your face, is an excellent veil for your legs. Or you can apply regular liquid leg makeup, available at cosmetic counters. The important step after painting on either type is DRYING. Drying must be thorough. When the legs are completely dry, you are ready for the second step, BUFFING.

With a regular buffer or with cotton, rub your legs gently to a soft mat finish and even color, to the point where the makeup no longer powders.

Then, draw on your stockings—and be pleasantly prepared to inspect prettier legs than you have ever pranced on.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Dorothy Manners

HOLLYWOOD — Hal Wallis made two extra decisions when he bought "Decision at Delphi" by mystery writer Helen MacInnes. The first is that he wants William Holden to star in it. Second, he wants Miss MacInnes to script her own novel, an intrigue of modern day Greece. She's best known for her best selling "North to Rome."

It's a good thing Hal plans to produce the picture in Greece because Bill Holden is interested only in working abroad. It's a big concession on the part of Wallis who prefers shooting in Hollywood no matter where his stories are set.

You can bet that when Jason Robards, Jr., gets here for "By Love Possessed," his girlfriend Lauren Bacall won't be far behind. And it isn't just love bringing "baby" back to the coast after she said a couple of years ago she was shaking our dust—and smog—permanently.

There is a deal afoot for Bacall to do "Tender Is the Night" at 20th now it looks definite that Jennifer Jones won't make it. Whether it jells or not, Lauren will probably remain glued to Robards at least while he's here making his picture with Lana Turner.

It may come as a surprise to Glenn Ford to learn that his favorite date before he took off for Paris, Hope Lange, is seeing her estranged husband, Don Murray. In fact, it comes as a bit of a surprise to Hollywood. For the past couple of weeks Hope and Don have been together constantly with Don spending most of his evenings at home with Hope and the children.

Good thing Jimmy Van Heusen booked the big room at the California Racquet Club for his party honoring Jane Morgan prior to her Cocoanut Grove debut tonight. Most of the musicians in town showed up to honor the songstress and her husband Larry Stith.

Sat with flame-haired Rhonda Fleming and her bridegroom Lang Jeffries at the Van Heusen party and listened in as Dave Kapp tipped Rhonda that Johnny Burke wants her for his upcoming Broadway musical "Donnybrook." This is the all-Irish show based on John Ford's classic film, "The Quiet Man," now being set to the Burke tunes and lyrics.

And what did Rhonda say? "They've sent the show to me — and there's nothing I had rather do than a musical in New York. But I'm a bride — and my husband works in Hollywood. If it could be worked out —?" and she looked at Lang.

He said, "I don't like New York—but where Rhonda goes, I go."—So who knows?

Big night Friday night for Sandra Dee in Rome — she's literally going to have a ball. Along with Rock Hudson, Gina Lollobrigida and Bobby Darin, her "Come September" co-stars, Sandra will be the guest of U.S. Ambassador James D. Zellerbach at the Marine Ball at the American Embassy—the big American affair of the season.

Sandra's date was supposed to be Bobby Darin, whom she's been dating. But Ambassador Zellerbach called and told her that a courageous young Marine, Corporal Stan Valerga, had taken his commission in his hands and personally called the embassy to ask if he might escort Sandra. The ambassador thought such initiative deserved reward—and so did Sandra.

Seven To Attend Md. Conference On Education

At least seven Allegany County representatives are scheduled to attend a Maryland lay conference on education tomorrow and Saturday morning at the Sheraton-Belvedere Hotel in Baltimore, according to Superintendent of Schools Ralph R. Webster.

This year's conference will be concerned primarily with teacher preparation, procurement and certification.

Among those expected to attend from here are Francis A. Kenney, manager of the local office of the State Department of Employment Security; J. Goodloe Jackson, president of the County Board of Education; W. Hudson Nix, personnel director of the Amcelle plant of Celanese Fibers Corporation; Dr. Charles A. Orlick, representing Allegany Ballistics Laboratory; A. W. Tindal, president of the First National Bank and Trust Company, and Delegate Fred B. Driscoll, chairman of the Allegany County Delegation in the General Assembly.

Church Choir Plans Organ, Voice Event

St. John's Lutheran Sanctuary Choir, which met a recent evening, made plans to fill two Thanksgiving baskets for deserving families.

The choir also made plans to sponsor Mrs. Russell Fink, wife of the pastor, and Richard Main in an organ and voice recital at the church in January.

John Jackle presided at the meeting and greetings were extended to Pat Shannon, new choir member. Mr. and Mrs. Jackle and Mrs. Paul Chenowith served refreshments.

Mrs. Raymond Wilt will be hostess for the November meeting assisted by Dallas Hite. On December 15, the choir will be entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Brown at their home in LaVale. A short informal choir rehearsal will precede the social hour.

Library Here Cooperates In Canadian Film Project

The Cumberland Branch of the Allegany County Library is cooperating with six libraries in Virginia and one in North Carolina in a nine-month project to make travel and wildlife films from Canada available to schools and other interested groups.

Three of these films are now available at the library here and will remain here until November 30, according to Miss Mary G. Walsh, librarian.

Films which are now at the library include "A Double In Blue Fins," a tuna-fishing expedition in a specially equipped fishing craft; "Nova Scotia Saga," the land of Evangeline which still reflects influence of early Acadians, and "Ontario's Sun Parlour," the historic area of the Niagara Peninsula.

The films range in length from 13 to 22 minutes.

A second group of three films will be available here from December 5 to January 31.

Miss Walsh said these films will be shown at the library if interested groups wish to see them.

Other libraries which are cooperating in this exchange of Canadian films are in Roanoke, Va.; Arlington, Va.; Stuart, Va.; Wilson, N. C.; Newport News, Va.; Harrisonburg, Va., and Charlottesville, Va.

Melvin Heiskell, principal of Ridgeley High School will accept a flag on behalf of the high school and the elementary school. The principals of the two other schools are expected to accept similar flags.

The color guard of the Legion post will participate in the brief ceremony near the flagpole on the school grounds. The presentation is part of the Legion's Americanism program headed by William Andrews.

Body Of 5th Victim Of Explosion Found

WILMINGTON, Del. (UPI) — Puzzled authorities attempted Wednesday to identify the body of a fifth man killed in the explosion and fire which destroyed a section of a synthetic resin plant here and injured four other workmen.

Officials of the Synvar Corp., said four of the men killed had been working in the area of the compound section where the explosion occurred but they said the fifth man was definitely not an employe.

The body of the unidentified man was found in an exhaust duct some five feet above the ground level. Edward R. Bell, deputy New Castle County coroner, said the body was burned beyond recognition.

The blast, which touched off a raging fire, shattered windows in the area and scattered debris over a seven block area. The explosion also blew out a plate glass window in a polling place across the street.

Leona Marie Kincaid was granted a divorce from Robert Julia Kincaid. Lucy Zanger obtained a divorce from Benjamin E. Zanger and custody of their two minor children.

Error May Give Nixon Hawaii

HONOLULU (UPI) — Hawaii's three electoral votes, originally recorded for President-elect John F. Kennedy, may belong in the column of Vice President Richard M. Nixon because of auditing errors.

Final unofficial totals announced by the office of Lt. Gov. James Kealoha gave Kennedy the win by a hairline margin of 102 votes.

But later William N. Kaina, administrative assistant to Kealoha, said a 200 vote error was discovered that might change the winner.

Surgery For Godfrey

NEW YORK (UPI) — Arthur Godfrey underwent surgery Wednesday for removal of a fatty tumor from his back.

The TV and radio entertainer was "feeling fine" following the operation in Columbia Presbyterian Hospital, a spokesman said.

Threat Of Invasion Diverted, Fidel Says

HAVANA (UPI) — Cuba's prolonged invasion jitters were dissipated officially Wednesday by Premier Fidel Castro who said Cuban diplomacy had successfully diverted the threat from abroad.

The government's protest to the United Nations against "imminent invasion" swerved "imperialist mercenaries" from their attack plans, Castro told the people in a nationwide television cast.

But he warned Cubans they must not become complacent and rely on Soviet Russia to protect them, but must get used to living with arms because of the ever-present threat of "imperialism."

On Crowing And The Eating Of Crow

This is a time when those who took strongly partisan positions in the late election campaign are expected either to crow or to "eat crow," depending upon the outcome. We have occasion today to do a little of both.

Readers are aware that The News supported Vice President Richard M. Nixon for the Presidency, which has now been won by Senator John F. Kennedy. Our natural distress at Mr. Nixon's loss is softened, however, by the extremely close popular vote, which indicates that only a tiny fraction less than half of the nation's voters also selected Mr. Nixon as their first choice.

But the Presidential campaign is over and done with, and Vice President Nixon has set the proper tone for its sequel with his call to all Americans to unite behind the new President-elect, as Americans traditionally have done, once the ballots were counted.

On the other and brighter side of the ledger is the gratifying victory of Charles McC. Mathias over Rep. John R. Foley for the right to represent the Sixth District in Congress. Mr. Mathias, a young man of considerable ability, has shown himself to be a clear thinker who can be expected to provide the effective, responsible representation the district needs. It is worth noting here that Mr. Mathias' victory coincides with a trend that took effect all over the United States as Republicans took 18 seats formerly held by Democrats, mostly liberal Democratic freshmen who, like Mr. Foley, had been swept into office in normally Republican districts by the great Democratic landslide of 1958. This will be comforting to the Republican camp because it means that many normally Republican districts across the country have now, like the Sixth District, returned to the fold.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

The Major

To millions, young and old, he was the Major in "Wagon Train," a kindly, gentle, strong-minded fellow with a glorious smile. To me, there was no make-believe about him, no make-up, no actor's costume. To me, he was just my brother-in-arms, a very close and dear friend whom I loved as no other. His name was Ward Bond.

The night before he died he telephoned to me from Dallas, Texas, to discuss the ideas in a speech he would make in favor of Richard Nixon. I never heard whether he delivered that speech. But that matters little now.

Ward Bond studied to be an engineer and would have done well at that as at anything he tried. But the Depression came and he and Duke Wayne drove trucks. It was John Ford who took them off the trucks and made actors of them. The Duke became a great star; Ward a supporting, character player in so many pictures that he lost track of them until T.V. claimed him and made him the beloved Major.

Ward Bond's principal interest in life was the United States. I have met patriotic Americans, some real, some pseudo, some for profit. But never have I known a person as consumed by a love of country as Ward Bond. He fought Communism in Hollywood not so much because he hated Communism as that he recognized the danger to his country. Like a father protecting a child, so Ward felt that he was protecting his country. Yes, he was fanatical; he was intense; he was emotional but it was about his United States. He could not ever understand that other men felt differently about such matters.

Ward spent vast sums battling against Communism. It was his own money and he could do with it as he chose. For a while, it went hard with him. Studios would not engage him because he quarrelled with actors and writers and producers who were Reds and they called him a Fascist.

Such constancy to a cause sometimes leads to errors of judgment, but there was no malice in Ward Bond's nature although there was much of what might be called guff. When a fellow turned from Communism and established himself as an anti-Communist by some overt act, Ward took him to his heart, battled for him, helped him over the rough spots.

I once had a dog called Brownie and that dog loved Ward who would arrive at odd hours, always bellowing in his enormous voice. Brownie welcomed Ward when he came to New York. One night, I returned home at a naughty hour when my household should have been silent. As I opened the door, Brownie gave one urgent bark, a warning that there was trouble. I hurried to my wife's room and there were two weeping ladies, my wife and Brownie. Ward had had a heart attack. This was many years ago. When he recovered from that one, he sent Brownie a beautiful blanket as a mark of their friendship. And when Brownie died, we buried her in that blanket and she lies under a stone marking her grave, on the side of a hill in the Berkshires.

Ward liked to be liked. When we would walk along the street and a taxi driver would shout, "Ward," he would be thrilled by the recognition. If we went to a railway station or an airport and the porters knew him and not me, he was overjoyed. But he never liked society and stuffed shirts and he overcame shyness or antagonism by bellowing, using unsuitable language, yelling at those who he thought were trying to be superior. But he enjoyed with infinite patience little people and took from them all the pushing and shoving that came with being a celebrity.

This was an authentic American character. He admired Senator Joe McCarthy; he believed that Senator Robert Taft should have been elected President of the United States. He never could understand how anyone could prefer Alger Hiss to Joe McCarthy or Adlai Stevenson to Barry Goldwater. Intolerant to a degree, he hoped that he might contribute something to the preservation of his country.

So Ward Bond is no more and even those who only knew him as the Major of "Wagon Train" weep at his passing. He was a man whom it was easy to love.

Lamar Caudle Keeps His Humor While Finishing Prison Term

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON—Lamar Caudle, the assistant attorney general under Truman who served six months in the Tallahassee Federal Penitentiary for "depriving the government of his best services," kept his sense of humor throughout his confinement.

"I hated to leave my constituents down there," he told this writer immediately after his release. "They gave me a big going-away party—but no raisin-jack. Raisin-jack is something they make out of raisins, yeast, and sugar that will knock your block off.

"The warden couldn't get any transportation for me when I was supposed to leave, so I just stayed an extra day. They didn't charge me anything for that extra day's board, though maybe you'd better not say anything about it or they'll send me a bill. I understand Mr. Eisenhower is balancing the budget.

"I was sent down there for denying the government my best services," continued Caudle in his broad North Carolina drawl. "But believe me I gave that prison my best services and I've got a good behavior certificate to prove it. I'm going to hang that certificate up on my wall so everybody can see it."

Note—Caudle was never charged with taking money, a suit of clothes, a vicuna coat, or even a rug from Irving Sachs, the St. Louis shoe stylist who had tax trouble. He was charged with depriving the government of his best services. Sachs was fined $40,000 by U.S. District Judge Roy Harper.

Matt Connelly, Truman's Secretary, had received two suits of clothes and a topcoat from Sachs for telephoning the Justice Department to arrange an appointment for Sachs' attorney to discuss his tax case.

Sherman Adams, who got a vicuna coat, a $2,000 rug, and other presents, intervened with the Federal Trade Commission twice on behalf of Bernard Goldfine who had violated the Wool Grading Act. Goldfine was subsequently fined for this violation, thought not until the conflict of interest was exposed in this column.

Johnson's Jostling

Probably the best thing that could have happened to Sen. Lyndon Johnson was the boos and jostling he got from Texans in Dallas. It should make him revert to the old Lyndon Johnson when he was a vigorous young New Deal Congressman, a favorite of FDR.

For the past ten years, in fact ever since he squeaked into the Senate by the slender margin of 87 votes, Lyndon has been trying to ride two horses going in opposite directions. He has been trying to please the big Texas oilmen, the new Texas Republican industrialists, and the Dixiecrat ranchers who want Texas to be a state almost divorced from the Union. And at the same time, Lyndon has wanted to keep the allegiance of the liberals and the down-to-earth Texans who first elected him.

As a result he has almost lost both.

The down-to-earth Democrats have turned against him and bet their money on Sen. Ralph Yarborough. Yarborough is the arch-enemy of the offshore oil Texans, the idol of the down-to-earth Texans. Despite hundreds of thousands of dollars poured in to defeat him, Yarborough, with the support of down-to-earth Texans, has won.

And last week Johnson woke up with a jolt to find that the Texans he had been trying to woo, the Texans for whom at times he almost became a split personality, were so impolite and arrogant as to whack his wife over the head with a "Lyndon Is A Judas" sign.

This is the crowd which has wanted a set of tax laws separate from those of the other 49 states, a set of oil laws which permits them to drill almost up to the coast of Mexico, the right to import cheap Mexican labor, and no minimum wage law to interfere with the trek of northern business southward. Yet at the same time they want the protection of the U. S. Navy over the waters of the Gulf of Mexico and they want a sizable share of U.S. Air Force and Army bases located in Texas.

So maybe the jeers and the jostling in Dallas will bring the emancipation of Lyndon Johnson.

Narcotics Cure vs. Economy

The Budget Bureau wants the U.S. Health Service to sell the 600 adjoining acres of farm land operated in conjunction with its Lexington, Ky., hospital for narcotics addicts.

Here last year, 227 patients who were taking the "cure" were trained in the most modern farming methods. These men, when their time is up, will not have to return to their old city haunts where they are more easily tempted back into addiction.

Instead, they are being trained for a new life away from the old temptations.

The farm administrator at Lexington is Robert E. Macklin, a Texas A & M graduate. Under him, the hospital dairy, for the eighth consecutive year, has led all others in the Blue Grass Dairy Herd Improvement Association in milk production. The hospital's dairy farm also won the statewide efficient production award for having a herd which averaged 13,464 pounds of milk per cow—the highest producing herd in the state.

Macklin oversees training in every branch of farm work—meat packing, greenhouse operation, truck gardening, general farming, cannery operation, and even equipment maintenance.

Other programs for curing addicts have turned the co-called "cured" patients back to their old haunts in the big cities. But the farm program diverted them away from enviroments where they fell back again on dope.

However, the current policy of getting the government out of business is scheduled to wipe out the farm adjacent to the narcotics hospital in Lexington.

Kennedy Faces Task Heavier Than Lincoln's

By Joseph Alsop

WASHINGTON

At no time in the history of the United States has a new President inherited a task so complex, burdensome, and difficult as the task that now lies ahead.

The thing is terrible to say, yet this task is still heavier, though less painful, than the task Abraham Lincoln inherited just one hundred years ago from the ineffectual hands of James Buchanan. For Lincoln could only preserve the nation by fighting and winning the Civil War. There was no question about what to do. All the greatness of this greatest American lay in how he did it.

Now the questions about what to do bristle on every side. "Negotiate," some say. "Rearm," say others. "Do both," say others. "Preserve the alliance," others cry. "Oppose colonialism, even if NATO is thereby rent asunder," yet others argue. And so it goes, on every major front of national policy.

Beyond these countless, bristling questions, moreover, looms the vast task itself. It is to give a new impetus to the cause of freedom in the world; to right the slipping balance of power; to light a new beacon for the uncommitted nations; to prove that the fruitful but cumbersome open society can successfully compete with the barren but deadly garrison states. And this many-sided task must somehow be performed in the grim shadow of the ultimate weapons, and within the limits which these impose upon national action.

If this definition of the task ahead sounds gloomy and grandiloquent, the reason is not that the definition is incorrect. The reason is, rather, that it has been unfashionable in recent years to speak honestly about our historical predicament, as it was also unfashionable in the Baldwin-Chamberlain years in England.

With the campaign mercifully at an end, it is high time for the fashion to change. Indeed it is late, very late, to face the facts that now confront us. As a symbol of those facts, consider, for example, only one of the minor contrasts between the propagated image and the hard reality.

In one of his campaign speeches, President Eisenhower boasted that he had helped to save Vietnam for freedom. Before he spoke, little Laos, the small country that is the geographic key to southeast Asia, had just slipped three-quarters of the way behind the Iron Curtain. Shortly after he spoke, the assassination of an American aide official in Vietnam underlined the point which the President so oddly ignored — the point that the resumed Communist offensive in Vietnam has now reached the stage of acute danger.

There is no longer any region on the entire face of the globe where comparable dangers are not seething below the surface or already in the open. In Africa, the Congo's moment of seeming-recovery has merged into a new peril. The ultimate triumph of the Kremlin's agent, Patrice Lumumba, is again quite likely. And if he triumphs, he will find Nkruma of Ghana, Toure in Guinea, and many others with whom he can joyfully join hands.

In Latin America, by the State Department's own sober enumerations, there are at least six national situations that may explode at any moment into revolutions like the Cuban revolution. And if this happens, the revolutionaries will find Fidel Castro far along with his job of transforming Cuba into an open Communist political base in this hemisphere.

Add to the list Berlin, where the most sacred of Western commitments is being challenged, with increasing arrogance, by the Kremlin and its East German puppet. Add the rise of neutralism in the very bosom of the Western alliance, in such key nations as Britain and Japan. Add the prime cause of all these ills, the long American neglect of the world power balance, which has caused both our allies and the uncommitted peoples to suspect that the Soviet Union may represent the wave of the future.

The list of unfinished business is as long as it is grim; the facets of the hard task ahead are as disturbing as they are numerous. The business, one may hope, can yet be done with success. The task, one can be confident, can yet be performed despite the dangers. Nothing is impossible, if our friends and enemies in the world are again confronted with the grand spectacle of an America re-awakened, newly vibrant, and again thrilling with stern determination.

But this spectacle must somehow be contrived by the new President, or the next turning point of history will be dark indeed.

CAMPAIGN COSTS—How much do the political campaigns cost?

There's probably no way of getting at an accurate figure, but there are indications that expenditures of both parties' candidates for all federal offices will exceed $50 million this year.

In 1956, the last Presidential year, spending was placed at some $48 million, and the price of running for office has gone up since then—like everything else.

The estimate of campaign spending is based on reports filed in accordance with law, and from private sources. Present law allows each national political party to receive and spend up to $3 million a year. Both parties headquarters contend this is completely unrealistic, suggest ceilings of from $8 to $12 million.

Behind this criticism are hints that ways are found to get around the law, and it is this reason that makes total spending so hard to pin down. Besides, there are no federal laws dealing with party spending at the state and local levels.

This is a huge loophole as many times the state and federal candidates combine for a television broadcast, or advertising program, or get-out-the-vote drive and the needed funds can be apportioned between the two divisions at any ratio desired.

Labor and political action groups are believed to spend many, many millions of dollars more than they report as contributions. They reported about $2.5 million in the 1956 campaign, but some sources insist their actual outlays were five to ten times this amount.

By Jim Bishop

MIAMI, Fla.

Dear Dad:

This is a cheap trick. By writing to you in a column, I save the 7-cent airmail stamp and you have to pay a dime to get the newspaper. You're loaded anyway. Any man who has a police pension, social security, and no responsibilities must have money he hasn't even folded.

In any case, I'm sorry to have missed your 77th birthday party. I hope the loot was good, although I will bet that you now have six more cerise ties, two mufflers, three bottles of after-shave lotion, and an assortment of rock and roll records.

You and I go back a long way, my friend, and we had all the good times and the bad ones together. Remember the time each of us needed $150 and we went to the bank and you borrowed $300 and I was your co-maker? On the way out, we tried to figure which one of us ought to start worrying? It wasn't easy.

You took my mother-in-law Maggy with the family for a shore dinner and you fixed her drinks. You fixed them all right. An hour later, she clapped you on the back and said: "John, I should have met you forty years ago," and momma got mad. Maggy was a lot of fun.

Remember when I took her on the cruise to South America? We were booked on the Grace Line and I didn't know that Maggy had never seen a ship before. As we walked up the gangplank, she looked at the Santa Paula and said: "My God — it has rooms in it!"

Once, you took us all out to Paterson for cream ale and, on the way back, Elinor kept saying: "That gas station is the same one we passed twice before," and you said: "Are you trying to tell me I don't know the road?" She turned out to be right. You had us on a carousel. It required an hour and 20 minutes to get off.

They're all gone now — the good times and the ladies. The only thing the clock can't take away is the laughter. We had it. We were rich when we didn't have a dime. Even when blindness overtook momma and you used to make her breakfast and dinner, we had laughs. Remember the time I walked in and you were washing the dishes and you lifted a bottle of Joy and said: "Have you tried this, Jim? It makes dishwashing almost a pleasure."

I was glad that you and I had a couple of days together before I left for Miami. There has always been a camaraderie between us, plus enormous respect. This is what makes the difference. Still, when we disagreed, we did so bitterly, sarcastically, and with no quarter asked or given.

At the risk of starting a fresh battle, may I point out that you were wrong when you said that Pittsburgh would be scared of the Yankees? Also, I think you ought to practice up on your game of pool; either steady the cue or screw the eyeballs in a little tighter. You see, I can say these things with impunity. I'm 1,500 miles away. I can't even hear you when you shout.

I'm learning to make my own breakfast in this villa. It has a refrigerator and a kitchen range, a sink, and a bar. The coffee maker is automatic, but it hasn't learned to put its own coffee in yet. The first attempt was pretty feeble. Perhaps I'd better stop washing the percolator with soap.

Terree and Bob Neale had me to their villa for dinner one night, and that saved me from experimenting with hamburgers. Give me time. That's all I need. Time and some good woman with experience.

I spoke to Dr. Bernard Krull before I left and he said that you are sound of wind and limb and that, if you weren't such a faker, you'd be out looking for a job. It's either that or get married. Find a nice chick of about 65 (too young?) and, for a wedding present, I'll give you dental goblets marked His and Hers.

There is an extra bed here. I told you that if you want to come down, the place is yours. We'd make a fine pair, creeping around the kitchenette and falling over each other.

Kidding aside, think about it. You've never flown before, but the airlines can get you down here in 150 minutes. That's a little faster than the night you whirled around Paterson. If you decide to make it, bring the pinochle deck with you. I'll meet you at the airport and we'll put the old team back in business.

Above all, keep well and strong and fighting. In my time, I've met Presidents and popes, but I've never known a greater man than you.

Jim

Itching Demands Cure, Not Merely Relief

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

There are many new remedies for rectal itching that really offer relief. Soothing ointments and suppositories alleviate symptoms in much the same way as aspirin kills pain. The individual is more comfortable but is not cured unless the troublemaker is found and eradicated. This requires a thorough rectal examination by someone who has the special equipment needed for this purpose.

For example, some people itch in this area because they are allergic to foods, such as milk or milk products, chocolate, orange juice, coffee, or cokes. The newer corticosteroid ointments, creams, or sprays bring immediate relief but recurrence can be expected so long as the irritating foods or beverages are consumed. How much better it would be to detect the allergen instead of having to apply a deitcher several times a day.

Itching stems also from a local lesion such as a draining sinus or irritated hemorrhoid. Surgery may be needed to correct the causative disorder.

Infections are common sources of itching. Antibiotic ointments are of value when bacteria are responsible whereas antifungicides, such as potassium permanganate solution, are needed for ringworm. Occasionally, pruritus ani results from a local skin disease, such as psoriasis, in the surrounding area.

Too much roughage in the diet may irritate mechanically; nuts, seeds, and popcorn are common offenders along this line. Nervousness is one of the toughest origins to manage unless the victim is willing to accept the diagnosis and realize that the symptom will recur whenever he is emotionally upset.

Products that combat itching are needed while the source of trouble is being investigated. Meanwhile, the victim should refrain from scratching or irritating the region with soap and toilet tissue. The area should be cleansed frequently with cotton and warm water.

(Dr. Van Dellen will send leaflet on pruritus ani if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.

TOMORROW: Broken neck not always fatal.

BONE MARROW

H. J. K. writes: What is meant by depression of the bone marrow?

REPLY

Blood cells are manufactured in the bone marrow and the process is slowed by various chemicals, atomic rays, drugs, and diseases. The result is anemia or a reduction in the number of white cells.

TREAT THE CAUSE

P. M. writes: Is it safe to take iron pills for years? This is the only way I can keep my anemia under control.

REPLY

Yes, provided you know why you are anemic. If you are bleeding because of hemorrhoids, for example, taking iron and neglecting the cause is as illogical as trying to fill a pail with water when it has a hole in the bottom.

ANTI-POLIO PILLS

Mrs. L. O. writes: Are the polio pills generally available now?

REPLY

Not in the United States.

CHANGES IN APPETITE

J. A. writes: Can nervousness cause appetite to fail?

REPLY

REPLY

Yes. Conversely, many nervous persons get fat because of nibbling all day or resorting to consolation eating.

WAX AND HISSING

P. L. writes: Can ear wax cause a hissing sound in the head?

REPLY

Yes, but blockage of the eustachian tubes is a more likely offender.

OPENING THE ABDOMEN

Mrs. M. C. writes: What is taken out when a laparotomy is done?

REPLY

Not the lap, to be sure. Any incision through the abdominal wall is called a laparotomy. Most surgeons prefer to be more specific when doing this operation and call it, for example, appendectomy or gastric resection.

CORTISONE

W. J. S. writes: When cortisone is injected into an arthritic joint, is it supposed to relieve pain only or does it cure arthritis?

REPLY

Cortisone relieves pain and aids the healing processes of the body. The effect of this hormone on arthritis is temporary unless a natural cure occurs during the interim.

To the limit of space questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

On Crowing And The Eating Of Crow

This is a time when those who took strongly partisan positions in the late election campaign are expected either to crow or to "eat crow," depending upon the outcome. We have occasion today to do a little of both.

Readers are aware that The News supported Vice President Richard M. Nixon for the Presidency, which has now been won by Senator John F. Kennedy. Our natural distress at Mr. Nixon's loss is softened, however, by the extremely close popular vote, which indicates that only a tiny fraction less than half of the nation's voters also selected Mr. Nixon as their first choice.

But the Presidential campaign is over and done with, and Vice President Nixon has set the proper tone for its sequel with his call to all Americans to unite behind the new President-elect, as Americans traditionally have done, once the ballots were counted.

On the other and brighter side of the ledger is the gratifying victory of Charles McC. Mathias over Rep. John R. Foley for the right to represent the Sixth District in Congress. Mr. Mathias, a young man of considerable ability, has shown himself to be a clear thinker who can be expected to provide the effective, responsible representation the district needs. It is worth noting here that Mr. Mathias' victory coincides with a trend that took effect all over the United States as Republicans took 18 seats formerly held by Democrats, mostly liberal Democratic freshmen who, like Mr. Foley, had been swept into office in normally Republican districts by the great Democratic landslide of 1958. This will be comforting to the Republican camp because it means that many normally Republican districts across the country have now, like the Sixth District, returned to the fold.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

The Major

To millions, young and old, he was the Major in "Wagon Train," a kindly, gentle, strong-minded fellow with a glorious smile. To me, there was no make-believe about him, no make-up, no actor's costume. To me, he was just my brother-in-arms, a very close and dear friend whom I loved as no other. His name was Ward Bond.

The night before he died he telephoned to me from Dallas, Texas, to discuss the ideas in a speech he would make in favor of Richard Nixon. I never heard whether he delivered that speech. But that matters little now.

Ward Bond studied to be an engineer and would have done well at that as at anything he tried. But the Depression came and he and Duke Wayne drove trucks. It was John Ford who took them off the trucks and made actors of them. The Duke became a great star; Ward a supporting, character player in so many pictures that he lost track of them until T.V. claimed him and made him the beloved Major.

Ward Bond's principal interest in life was the United States. I have met patriotic Americans, some real, some pseudo, some for profit. But never have I known a person as consumed by a love of country as Ward Bond. He fought Communism in Hollywood not so much because he hated Communism as that he recognized the danger to his country. Like a father protecting a child, so Ward felt that he was protecting his country. Yes, he was fanatical; he was intense; he was emotional but it was about his United States. He could not ever understand that other men felt differently about such matters.

Ward spent vast sums battling against Communism. It was his own money and he could do with it as he chose. For a while, it went hard with him. Studios would not engage him because he quarrelled with actors and writers and producers who were Reds and they called him a Fascist.

Such constancy to a cause sometimes leads to errors of judgment, but there was no malice in Ward Bond's nature although there was much of what might be called guff. When a fellow turned from Communism and established himself as an anti-Communist by some overt act, Ward took him to his heart, battled for him, helped him over the rough spots.

I once had a dog called Brownie and that dog loved Ward who would arrive at odd hours, always bellowing in his enormous voice. Brownie welcomed Ward when he came to New York. One night, I returned home at a naughty hour when my household should have been silent. As I opened the door, Brownie gave one urgent bark, a warning that there was trouble. I hurried to my wife's room and there were two weeping ladies, my wife and Brownie. Ward had had a heart attack. This was many years ago. When he recovered from that one, he sent Brownie a beautiful blanket as a mark of their friendship. And when Brownie died, we buried her in that blanket and she lies under a stone marking her grave, on the side of a hill in the Berkshires.

Intolerant to a degree, he hoped that he might contribute something to the preservation of his country.

So Ward Bond is no more and even those who only knew him as the Major of "Wagon Train" weep at his passing. He was a man whom it was easy to love.

Narcotics Cure vs. Economy

Ike's policy of getting the government out of business is about to doom one of the most successful programs ever devised to cure narcotics addicts.

The hospital's dairy farm also won the statewide efficient production award for having a herd which averaged 13,464 pounds of milk per cow—the highest producing herd in the state.

Macklin oversees training in every branch of farm work—meat packing, greenhouse operation, truck gardening, general farming, cannery operation, and even equipment maintenance.

Other programs for curing addicts have turned the co-called "cured" patients back to their old haunts in the big cities. But the farm program diverted them away from enviroments where they fell back again on dope.

However, the current policy of getting the government out of business is scheduled to wipe out the farm adjacent to the narcotics hospital in Lexington.

Kennedy Faces Task Heavier Than Lincoln's

By Joseph Alsop

WASHINGTON

At no time in the history of the United States has a new President inherited a task so complex, burdensome, and difficult as the task that now lies ahead.

The thing is terrible to say, yet this task is still heavier, though less painful, than the task Abraham Lincoln inherited just one hundred years ago from the ineffectual hands of James Buchanan. For Lincoln could only preserve the nation by fighting and winning the Civil War. There was no question about what to do. All the greatness of this greatest American lay in how he did it.

Now the questions about what to do bristle on every side. "Negotiate," some say. "Rearm," say others. "Do both," say others. "Preserve the alliance," others cry. "Oppose colonialism, even if NATO is thereby rent asunder," yet others argue. And so it goes, on every major front of national policy.

Beyond these countless, bristling questions, moreover, looms the vast task itself. It is to give a new impetus to the cause of freedom in the world; to right the slipping balance of power; to light a new beacon for the uncommitted nations; to prove that the fruitful but cumbersome open society can successfully compete with the barren but deadly garrison states. And this many-sided task must somehow be performed in the grim shadow of the ultimate weapons, and within the limits which these impose upon national action.

If this definition of the task ahead sounds gloomy and grandiloquent, the reason is not that the definition is incorrect. The reason is, rather, that it has been unfashionable in recent years to speak honestly about our historical predicament, as it was also unfashionable in the Baldwin-Chamberlain years in England.

With the campaign mercifully at an end, it is high time for the fashion to change. Indeed it is late, very late, to face the facts that now confront us. As a symbol of those facts, consider, for example, only one of the minor contrasts between the propagated image and the hard reality.

In one of his campaign speeches, President Eisenhower boasted that he had helped to save Vietnam for freedom. Before he spoke, little Laos, the small country that is the geographic key to southeast Asia, had just slipped three-quarters of the way behind the Iron Curtain. Shortly after he spoke, the assassination of an American aide official in Vietnam underlined the point which the President so oddly ignored — the point that the resumed Communist offensive in Vietnam has now reached the stage of acute danger.

There is no longer any region on the entire face of the globe where comparable dangers are not seething below the surface or already in the open. In Africa, the Congo's moment of seeming-recovery has merged into a new peril. The ultimate triumph of the Kremlin's agent, Patrice Lumumba, is again quite likely. And if he triumphs, he will find Nkruma of Ghana, Toure in Guinea, and many others with whom he can joyfully join hands.

In Latin America, by the State Department's own sober enumerations, there are at least six national situations that may explode at any moment into revolutions like the Cuban revolution. And if this happens, the revolutionaries will find Fidel Castro far along with his job of transforming Cuba into an open Communist political base in this hemisphere.

Add to the list Berlin, where the most sacred of Western commitments is being challenged, with increasing arrogance, by the Kremlin and its East German puppet. Add the rise of neutralism in the very bosom of the Western alliance, in such key nations as Britain and Japan. Add the prime cause of all these ills, the long American neglect of the world power balance, which has caused both our allies and the uncommitted peoples to suspect that the Soviet Union may represent the wave of the future.

The list of unfinished business is as long as it is grim; the facets of the hard task ahead are as disturbing as they are numerous. The business, one may hope, can yet be done with success. The task, one can be confident, can yet be performed despite the dangers. Nothing is impossible, if our friends and enemies in the world are again confronted with the grand spectacle of an America re-awakened, newly vibrant, and again thrilling with stern determination.

But this spectacle must somehow be contrived by the new President, or the next turning point of history will be dark indeed.

CAMPAIGN COSTS—How much do the political campaigns cost?

There's probably no way of getting at an accurate figure, but there are indications that expenditures of both parties' candidates for all federal offices will exceed $50 million this year.

In 1956, the last Presidential year, spending was placed at some $48 million, and the price of running for office has gone up since then—like everything else.

The estimate of campaign spending is based on reports filed in accordance with law, and from private sources. Present law allows each national political party to receive and spend up to $3 million a year. Both parties headquarters contend this is completely unrealistic, suggest ceilings of from $8 to $12 million.

Behind this criticism are hints that ways are found to get around the law, and it is this reason that makes total spending so hard to pin down. Besides, there are no federal laws dealing with party spending at the state and local levels.

This is a huge loophole as many times the state and federal candidates combine for a television broadcast, or advertising program, or get-out-the-vote drive and the needed funds can be apportioned between the two divisions at any ratio desired.

Labor and political action groups are believed to spend many, many millions of dollars more than they report as contributions. They reported about $2.5 million in the 1956 campaign, but some sources insist their actual outlays were five to ten times this amount.

MIAMI, Fla.

Dear Dad:

This is a cheap trick. By writing to you in a column, I save the 7-cent airmail stamp and you have to pay a dime to get the newspaper. You're loaded anyway. Any man who has a police pension, social security, and no responsibilities must have money he hasn't even folded.

In any case, I'm sorry to have missed your 77th birthday party. I hope the loot was good, although I will bet that you now have six more cerise ties, two mufflers, three bottles of after-shave lotion, and an assortment of rock and roll records.

You and I go back a long way, my friend, and we had all the good times and the bad ones together. Remember the time each of us needed $150 and we went to the bank and you borrowed $300 and I was your co-maker? On the way out, we tried to figure which one of us ought to start worrying? It wasn't easy.

You took my mother-in-law Maggy with the family for a shore dinner and you fixed her drinks. You fixed them all right. An hour later, she clapped you on the back and said: "John, I should have met you forty years ago," and momma got mad. Maggy was a lot of fun.

Remember when I took her on the cruise to South America? We were booked on the Grace Line and I didn't know that Maggy had never seen a ship before. As we walked up the gangplank, she looked at the Santa Paula and said: "My God — it has rooms in it!"

Once, you took us all out to Paterson for cream ale and, on the way back, Elinor kept saying: "That gas station is the same one we passed twice before," and you said: "Are you trying to tell me I don't know the road?" She turned out to be right. You had us on a carousel. It required an hour and 20 minutes to get off.

They're all gone now — the good times and the ladies. The only thing the clock can't take away is the laughter. We had it. We were rich when we didn't have a dime. Even when blindness overtook momma and you used to make her breakfast and dinner, we had laughs. Remember the time I walked in and you were washing the dishes and you lifted a bottle of Joy and said: "Have you tried this, Jim? It makes dishwashing almost a pleasure."

I was glad that you and I had a couple of days together before I left for Miami. There has always been a camaraderie between us, plus enormous respect. This is what makes the difference. Still, when we disagreed, we did so bitterly, sarcastically, and with no quarter asked or given.

At the risk of starting a fresh battle, may I point out that you were wrong when you said that Pittsburgh would be scared of the Yankees? Also, I think you ought to practice up on your game of pool; either steady the cue or screw the eyeballs in a little tighter. You see, I can say these things with impunity. I'm 1,500 miles away. I can't even hear you when you shout.

I'm learning to make my own breakfast in this villa. It has a refrigerator and a kitchen range, a sink, and a bar. The coffee maker is automatic, but it hasn't learned to put its own coffee in yet. The first attempt was pretty feeble. Perhaps I'd better stop washing the percolator with soap.

Terree and Bob Neale had me to their villa for dinner one night, and that saved me from experimenting with hamburgers. Give me time. That's all I need. Time and some good woman with experience.

I spoke to Dr. Bernard Krull before I left and he said that you are sound of wind and limb and that, if you weren't such a faker, you'd be out looking for a job. It's either that or get married. Find a nice chick of about 65 (too young?) and, for a wedding present, I'll give you dental goblets marked His and Hers.

There is an extra bed here. I told you that if you want to come down, the place is yours. We'd make a fine pair, creeping around the kitchenette and falling over each other.

Kidding aside, think about it. You've never flown before, but the airlines can get you down here in 150 minutes. That's a little faster than the night you whirled around Paterson. If you decide to make it, bring the pinochle deck with you. I'll meet you at the airport and we'll put the old team back in business.

Above all, keep well and strong and fighting. In my time, I've met Presidents and popes, but I've never known a greater man than you.

Jim

Itching Demands Cure, Not Merely Relief

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

There are many new remedies for rectal itching that really offer relief. Soothing ointments and suppositories alleviate symptoms in much the same way as aspirin kills pain. The individual is more comfortable but is not cured unless the troublemaker is found and eradicated. This requires a thorough rectal examination by someone who has the special equipment needed for this purpose.

For example, some people itch in this area because they are allergic to foods, such as milk or milk products, chocolate, orange juice, coffee, or cokes. The newer corticosteroid ointments, creams, or sprays bring immediate relief but recurrence can be expected so long as the irritating foods or beverages are consumed. How much better it would be to detect the allergen instead of having to apply a de-itcher several times a day.

Itching stems also from a local lesion such as a draining sinus or irritated hemorrhoid. Surgery may be needed to correct the causative disorder.

Infections are common sources of itching. Antibiotic ointments are of value when bacteria are responsible whereas antifungicides, such as potassium permanganate solution, are needed for ringworm. Occasionally, pruritus ani results from a local skin disease, such as psoriasis, in the surrounding area.

Too much roughage in the diet may irritate mechanically; nuts, seeds, and popcorn are common offenders along this line. Nervousness is one of the toughest origins to manage unless the victim is willing to accept the diagnosis and realize that the symptom will recur whenever he is emotionally upset.

Products that combat itching are needed while the source of trouble is being investigated. Meanwhile, the victim should refrain from scratching or irritating the region with soap and toilet tissue. The area should be cleansed frequently with cotton and warm water.

(Dr. Van Dellen will send leaflet on pruritus ani if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.

TOMORROW: Broken neck not always fatal.

BONE MARROW

H. J. K. writes: What is meant by depression of the bone marrow?

REPLY

Blood cells are manufactured in the bone marrow and the process is slowed by various chemicals, atomic rays, drugs, and diseases. The result is anemia or a reduction in the number of white cells.

TREAT THE CAUSE

P. M. writes: Is it safe to take iron pills for years? This is the only way I can keep my anemia under control.

REPLY

Yes, provided you know why you are anemic. If you are bleeding because of hemorrhoids, for example, taking iron and neglecting the cause is as illogical as trying to fill a pail with water when it has a hole in the bottom.

ANTI-POLIO PILLS

Mrs. L. O. writes: Are the polio pills generally available now?

REPLY

Not in the United States.

CHANGES IN APPETITE

J. A. writes: Can nervousness cause appetite to fail?

REPLY

REPLY

Yes. Conversely, many nervous persons get fat because of nibbling all day or resorting to consolation eating.

WAX AND HISSING

P. L. writes: Can ear wax cause a hissing sound in the head?

REPLY

Yes, but blockage of the eustachian tubes is a more likely offender.

OPENING THE ABDOMEN

Mrs. M. C. writes: What is taken out when a laparotomy is done?

REPLY

Not the lap, to be sure. Any incision through the abdominal wall is called a laparotomy. Most surgeons prefer to be more specific when doing this operation and call it, for example, appendectomy or gastric resection.

CORTISONE

W. J. S. writes: When cortisone is injected into an arthritic joint, is it supposed to relieve pain only or does it cure arthritis?

REPLY

Cortisone relieves pain and aids the healing processes of the body. The effect of this hormone on arthritis is temporary unless a natural cure occurs during the interim.

To the limit of space questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Pocketbook Issues Lost W. Va. For GOP

By BILL BARRETT

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—The "pocketbook" issues, particularly in West Virginia's southern coal fields proved the downfall of the Republican Party in Tuesday's general election, a GOP spokesman declared Wednesday.

Eugene Scott, executive secretary of the Republican State Committee, said also working against the GOP was the nationwide Democratic trend.

"When you have a trend running like it was in southern West Virginia you can't overcome it," Scott said. "I feel that there is nothing that we failed to do which would have changed that tide."

Scott said Republican statewide candidates did well in the industrial areas of the state, but met their downfall in the heavily populated coal field section which is normally Democratic — as well as economically depressed.

"They (the miners) were out of work and voted for a change," he said. "It was their pocketbook which dictated the action, I am sure."

Democrats won a sweeping victory in West Virginia, wiping out what gains the Republicans made in the 1956 election. They captured the governor's chair, all five seats on the State Board of Public Works and picked up two seats in the State Senate. They lost three seats in the House of Delegates.

The Congressional delegation—two Democratic senators and one Republican among six representatives—remained intact.

Scott praised the Republican workers.

"I think our organization, especially at the precinct level was the best we've ever had—it even exceeded 1956," he said. "But there was just too much to overcome."

He explained the feeling among jobless coal miners this way.

"It wouldn't have made any difference if the situation had been reversed, the coal miners would have voted for a change," he said. "Automation was not a fault of either the Republicans or Democrats, but it's hard to tell that to a man who is without a job."

Scott said the election results would not dishearten the GOP in West Virginia.

"We'll begin making plans now for 1962 and 1964," he said. "Good candidates and good organization will be our aim. With them we feel we can win."

Mineral County Voters Split Party Tickets

Best Vote Goes To Nixon-Lodge

KEYSER, W. Va.—Much ticket-splitting was in evidence as the final returns in Mineral County were tallied.

Voters favored the Republican candidates for president and most of the state ticket, but veered from the slight Republican majority when they supported the Democratic Congressional and U. S. Senate candidates along with some county office-seekers.

The Nixon-Lodge ticket had the best vote spread in all but one of the contested races by outpolling Kennedy and Johnson 6,299 to 4,164.

However, Mineral voters gave majorities to Jennings Randolph for U. S. Senate, and Harley O. Staggers for Second District Congress.

The Republican ticket was carried on the state ticket with the exception of the race for the two posts on the W. Va. Supreme Court of Appeals. Incumbent Harlan O. Calhoun, Moorefield Democrat, led the three other candidates.

In the county Reeves Taylor, Keyser Democrat and attorney, defeated John F. Somerville Jr., the Republican hope.

But in other county races the republicans won,—Earl E. Kemp for sheriff over Joseph M. Stanislawczyk; Dr. Paul S. Giffin for House of Delegates over Leslie G. Sherman; Frank A. Hott for assessor over Walt A. Wenner and Frank J. Shreve for county commissioner over Luther W. Borror.

Nixon-Lodge — 6,299; Kennedy-Johnson, 4,164; U. S. Senator—Underwood, 5,037; Randolph, 5,227; Second District Congress—Whiston, 3,733; Staggers, 6,717; governor—Neely, 5,593; Barron, 4,595.

W. Va. Loses Wager On Vote To Hawaii

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—Gov. Cecil H. Underwood not only lost his bid for election as a United States senator Tuesday but at the same time he saw a wager extended on behalf of all West Virginia residents lost.

Underwood accepted some two weeks ago a friendly wager with the state of Hawaii to see which state could turn out the largest vote in the general election balloting.

West Virginia had just over 75 per cent of its registration turn out. In Hawaii, unofficial returns, show that some 93 per cent of the registration cast ballots.

By JACK DAVIS

It was just a year ago.

The inner circle around Sen. John F. Kennedy had decided his name should be entered in presidential primaries in certain states.

On the basis of their own surveys by privately hired pollsters, Kennedy's advisors decided West Virginia would be one in which he should win easily without much fuss.

So his name was entered in the West Virginia preferential primary.

But neither he nor his group had any idea what was to develop. The Massachusetts senator ran headlong into the roughest political fight of his life—until this fall.

In fact, Kennedy placed his entire presidential future in the hands of West Virginia voters.

"If I cannot win here," he said during that hectic West Virginia primary campaign last spring, "I do not deserve the nomination."

Suddenly, he had competition. Serious competition. Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota also decided he would make his decisive bid in West Virginia for the nomination that could lead to the White House.

The two made the Mountain State—which has only eight electoral votes—the battleground to decide how far each of their campaigns would go.

Three weeks before the May 10 primary, Kennedy's personal pollsters found he still was ahead—but by a narrowing margin.

Ten days later, they found—by their own figures—Kennedy was in serious trouble. He was in danger of losing.

Roughly five of six West Virginia church members are protestants.

A week and two days before the primary, Kennedy began talking about his religion. He brought it up, one way or the other, in virtually every wayside stop he made as he campaigned up the hollows and over the bills.

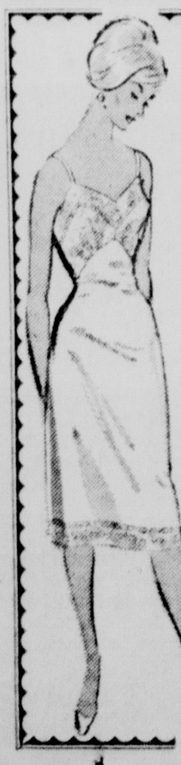

His theme: No man's religion—as long as he has one—should prevent him from serving as the nation's president.

Knenedy won about 60 per cent of the Democratic votes cast.

He has said several times the West Virginia victory paved his way to Los Angeles—and the nomination.

Pocketbook Issues Lost W. Va. For GOP

By BILL BARRETT

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—The "pocketbook" issues, particularly in West Virginia's southern coal fields proved the downfall of the Republican Party in Tuesday's general election, a GOP spokesman declared Wednesday.

Eugene Scott, executive secretary of the Republican State Committee, said also working against the GOP was the nationwide Democratic trend.

"When you have a trend running like it was in southern West Virginia you can't overcome it," Scott said. "I feel that there is nothing that we failed to do which would have changed that tide."

Scott said Republican statewide candidates did well in the industrial areas of the state, but met their downfall in the heavily populated coal field section which is normally Democratic — as well as economically depressed.

"They (the miners) were out of work and voted for a change," he said. "It was their pocketbook which dictated the action, I am sure."

Democrats won a sweeping victory in West Virginia, wiping out what gains the Republicans made in the 1956 election. They captured the governor's chair, all five seats on the State Board of Public Works and picked up two seats in the State Senate. They lost three seats in the House of Delegates.

The Congressional delegation—two Democratic senators and one Republican among six representatives—remained intact.

Scott praised the Republican workers.

"I think our organization, especially at the precinct level was the best we've ever had—it even exceeded 1956," he said. "But there was just too much to overcome."

He explained the feeling among jobless coal miners this way.

"It wouldn't have made any difference if the situation had been reversed, the coal miners would have voted for a change," he said. "Automation was not a fault of either the Republicans or Democrats, but it's hard to tell that to a man who is without a job."

Scott said the election results would not dishearten the GOP in West Virginia.

"We'll begin making plans now for 1962 and 1964," he said. "Good candidates and good organization will be our aim. With them we feel we can win."

Mineral County Voters Split Party Tickets

Best Vote Goes To Nixon-Lodge

KEYSER, W. Va.—Much ticket-splitting was in evidence as the final returns in Mineral County were tallied.

Voters favored the Republican candidates for president and most of the state ticket, but veered from the slight Republican majority when they supported the Democratic Congressional and U. S. Senate candidates along with some county office-seekers.

The Nixon-Lodge ticket had the best vote spread in all but one of the contested races by outpolling Kennedy and Johnson 6,299 to 4,164.

However, Mineral voters gave majorities to Jennings Randolph for U. S. Senate, and Harley O. Staggers for Second District Congress.

The Republican ticket was carried on the state ticket with the exception of the race for the two posts on the W. Va. Supreme Court of Appeals. Incumbent Harlan O. Calhoun, Moorefield Democrat, led the three other candidates.

In the county Reeves Taylor, Keyser Democrat and attorney, defeated John F. Somerville Jr., the Republican hope.

But in other county races the republicans won,—Earl E. Kemp for sheriff over Joseph M. Stanislawczyk; Dr. Paul S. Giffin for House of Delegates over Leslie G. Sherman; Frank A. Hott for assessor over Walt. A. Wenner and Frank J. Shreve for county commissioner over Luther W. Borror.

Nixon-Lodge — 6,299; Kennedy-Johnson, 4,164; U. S. Senator—Underwood, 5,037; Randolph, 5,227; Second District Congress—Whiston, 3,733; Staggers, 6,717; governor—Neely, 5,593; Barron, 4,595.

Secretary of state—Weimer, 5,572; Burdett, 4,334; auditor—McGuire, 5,116; Gainer, 4,603; treasurer—Chapman, 5,291; Kelly, 4,466; attorney general, Dodson, 5,097; Robertson, 4,611; commissioner of agriculture—Perine, 5,232; Johnson, 4,526.

Judge of the Supreme Court—Pauley, 4,843; Stemple, 4,898; Browning, 4,522; Calhoun, 4,983; State senate, (16th District) — Carvey, 5,928; Miller, 4,101; sheriff—Kemp, 5,517; Stanislawczyk, 4,644; prosecuting attorney—Somerville, 4,878; Taylor, 5,274.

House of Delegates—Giffin, 5,599; Sherman, 4,364; assessor—Hott, 6,289; Wenner, 3,759; county commissioner Shreve, 5,295; Borror, 4,602. Justice of the peace, New Creek District, Bazzle, (R) 2,917; Bosley (R), 2,726; constable, Kauffman, (R) 2,910; Lewis, (R) 2,665.

W. Va. Loses Wager On Vote To Hawaii

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—Gov. Cecil H. Underwood not only lost his bid for election as a United States senator Tuesday but at the same time he saw a wager extended on behalf of all West Virginia residents lost.

Maris Named American League's Most Valuable Player

Roger Edges Mantle And Robinson

Outfielder Gets 225 Points; Race Closest Since '47

By BOB HOOBING

BOSTON (AP) — Slugging outfielder Roger Maris Wednesday was named the American League's most valuable player for 1960, edging New York Yankee teammate Mickey Mantle by three votes.

The prize trade acquisition from Kansas City collected 225 points in his first season with the league champions to Mantle's 222.

Results of the balloting announced by Hy Hurwitz, secretary of the Baseball Writers Association of America, were the second closest in the history of the award given annually since Lefty Grove was named in 1931.

In 1947, Joe DiMaggio got the nod over Ted Williams, 202-201.

Baltimore's slick-fielding third baseman Brooks Robinson was third with 211 points, marking the first time in the league's MVP award that three players received over 200 points.

Robinson was the only player to get votes on each of the 24 ballots. Maris was named on 23 and Mantle on 21.

Mantle received the honor in 1956 and 1957. On the latter occasion, Mantle drew 233 points to 209 for Williams, who at the age of 39, batted .388. Williams lost out by being named ninth on one ballot and 10th on another.

A designated 24-man committee votes for 10 players each with 14 points awarded for first place, nine for second, eight for third, etc.

Maris is a 26-year-old, Minnesota-born athlete who led the American League in runs batted in (112) and slugging percentage (.581) while hitting .283. His 39 home runs put him one behind Mantle's title-winning 40.

This was Maris' fourth season in the majors. He began with Cleveland, then went to Kansas City. The Yankees acquired him last December along with Joe Demaestri and Kent Hadley from Kansas City for Don Larsen, Marv Throneberry, Hank Bauer and Norm Siebern.

Six Baltimore Orioles and two Washington Senators received votes. The Orioles, in addition to Robinson, were Ron Hansen, 110 points; Chuck Estrada 28, Jim Gentile 21, Steve Barber 7 and Gene Woodling 3.

Four of the Orioles named were rookies—Hansen, Estrada, Gentile and Barber.

COAST DAZZLER—Most spectacular back on the West coast is Bill Kilmer, the U.C.L.A. All-American dazzler, who had his biggest day against California last weekend when he gained 225 yards, scored two touchdowns, quick-kicked three times and completed 8 of 11 passes.

Colts Utilize Unitas' Arm To Lead NFL On Offense

Baltimore Gains 1,721 Yards Passing

NEW YORK (UPI)—The Baltimore Colts, who have utilized Johnny Unitas' passing arm for 64 per cent of their yardage, have pulled away to a commanding lead in the National Football League's total offense race.

According to league statistics released Wednesday, Baltimore has gained 1,721 yards by passing and 962 by rushing for a total of 2,683. The Colts passing yardage is high for the league and they have taken over first place in scoring with a total of 214 points.

To emphasize the Colts, reliance on passing, their rushing yardage total is only fifth in the league. The St. Louis Cardinals are the No. 1 rushing team with 1,288 yards, followed by the Green Bay packers (1,130), the Cleveland Browns (1,004) and the San Francisco Forty-Niners (981).

Second To Colts

The Pittsburgh Steelers are second to the Colts in passing with 1,500 yards, followed by the Philadelphia Eagles (1,440), the Dallas Cowboys (1,111) and the Cardinals (1,088).

Baltimore, Dallas, Los Angeles, Pittsburgh, St. Louis and San Francisco have played 7 games each; all others have played 6.

The Eagles lead the league in punting with an average of 45.7 yards. All of Philadelphia's punting has been handled by Norm Van Brocklin, the N.F.L.'s individual leader in that department.

In defense, the New York Giants, who held the Browns to a net of 6 yards on the ground last Sunday, have moved into first place in ground defense with an average yield of 3.3 yards per opponent rush. The Eagles took over the pass defense lead. They have permitted their opponents to complete only 44.7 per cent of their passes.

Taylor Replaces Brown

Among the individual departments, the only change from last week was in rushing, where Jim Taylor of the Packers replaced Jimmy Brown of Cleveland. Taylor was first with 540 yards, followed by John David Crow of the Cardinals with 524. Brown, held to 29 yards by the Giants, dropped to third with a total of 521.

Milt Plum of the Browns remained tops in passing, Ray Berry of the Colts held his pass receiving lead, Van Brocklin again was tops in punting and Paul Hornung of the Packers No. 1 in scoring.

Plum has a pass completion percentage of 68.7, has gained an average of 10.86 yards per pass and has not had an interception. Unitas, with a completion percentage of 53.2, 17 touchdown throws and total gains of 1,778 yards, was second.

Berry has caught 46 passes for a total of 862 yards and Hornung has scored 83 points on 7 touchdowns, 20 conversions and 7 field goals.

Bill Butler of Dallas and Johnny Sample of Baltimore remained first in punt returns and kickoff returns, respectively, while Jerry Norton of St. Louis and Don Shinnick of Baltimore moved into a first-place tie with Andy Nelson of the Colts in pass interceptions. All have stolen 5 passes.

Depends On Viewpoint

BALTIMORE — Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt, former president of Pimlico, won the 1950 Dixie Handicap with Loser Weeper. After the race he called the track announcer and said: "Finest call I ever heard you make."

SPORTS SPUTTERINGS

By Walter L. Johns, Central Press Sports Editor

THE FIGHTING IRISH of Notre Dame, still fighting but staggering on the ropes, are going through what could be their worst season in 72 years of glorious deeds on the gridiron and little hope is held for all-out success the rest of the way.

And poor Joe Kuharich, the old pro coach and one of the illustrious Notre Damers of the past, is staggering, too, as injuries and an assortment of bad breaks have reduced the nation's No. 1 team to an also-ran in a field of high pressure football.

Some tell you that Notre Dame has de-emphasized, that the talent which came the way of the Golden Dome is going elsewhere. Some are still criticizing the Terry Brennan case and some will tell you that Kuharich is not the man for the job.

STATISTICALLY, the book is in deep red ink, for as the Irish headed into the last three games on the schedule, only one victory, in the opener with California, is on the record and even North Carolina, which hasn't won another game, is included in the Irish equalizers.

Injuries continue to pile up on the Irish, who opened the season with an assortment of knee ailments which virtually made the training room a hospital ward.

While the end result is putrid, the Irish play has been surprisingly good for in five of the defeats the Irish had the advantage in statistics but lacked that scoring punch or defense to win it. As an example of the hospital horrids this year, seven different boys have been tried at fullback.

Red Mack, the team's No. 1 offensive threat, was hurt early and instead of being the big gun he is out and carried the ball only nine times. Eighteen different players have carried the ball from scrimmage, with the leading rusher, George Sefcik, off and on because of injuries.

NOTRE DAME'S record on the grid over the years is a spectacular one. Only twice since 1900 has the team had a losing season, in 1933 and in 1956, and again this year.

The Irish have had 17 coaches, with the one and only Knute Rockne finishing with 105 wins against 12 losses and Frank Leahy, in two different assignments, winding up with 87 wins and 11 losses. The Notre Dame overall record shows seven national championships and 18 undefeated seasons.

High School, Men's Rec Basketball Loops Hold First Meeting

A joint meeting was held last night of the High School and Men's Rec Basketball Leagues at City Hall with nine teams represented at the first organizational session.

C. Eugene Mason, recreation director, said a general discussion of league operations was held and by-laws for the coming year were outlined.

Entry fees are due at the next meeting of the leagues on November 17 at 8 p. m. at City Hall.

In the high school division the representatives were Fort Hill Hi-Y, Andy Petenbrink; Val's Cadets, Val DeArcangelis; and DeMolay, John Poling.

Audubon Plans Eagle Inventory

The National Audubon Society announced it will undertake an inventory of bald eagle numbers in North America.

The study is prompted, Society President Carl W. Buchheister reported, by widespread reports of a serious downward trend in the population of the great, white-headed bird that serves the United States as its national emblem.

The eagle has managed to survive in fair numbers in the Chesapeake Bay region, writes Brook Meanley and Fred G. Schmid in the March-April 1960 issue of the "Maryland Conservationist". However, 30 years ago, the bald eagle nested on the average of every three miles along the shores of the Chesapeake.

It is only the acquisition of large tracts of land by the military, and the presence of large farms held by persons on the upper Eastern Shore that prevents the eagle from disappearing completely from the Bay region. In Maryland, good sections for nesting eagles are on the military reservations of the Upper Bay, the Chester and Potomac Rivers.

Keeneland race track in Kentucky, which marks its 25th birthday, is a non-profit organization, and all officers serve without pay.

Maryland Hall Of Fame Adds Four Members

Johnny Neun Among Honored Athletes

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP)—The Maryland Athletic Hall of Fame has added four new members, bringing the all-time total membership to 24.

The new members include a woman, the Hall's second. The latest is Elizabeth (Toots) Barger, prominent Baltimore duckpin bowler. She has ten times been the top ranking woman bowler in the United States and holds four individual world records.

Other new additions to the Hall of Fame are John H. Neun, J. Thomas Kibler and the late Fred Linkous.

Neun, an executive in the New York Yankee baseball organization, has been a soccer and baseball authority in the Baltimore area for several years. His baseball career extends over 40 years as a player, coach and manager in both major leagues.

An Eastern Shore sports figure for about half a century, Kibler is a former baseball player, coach and league president. He coached at Washington College until 1958.

Linkous was a University of Maryland star athlete before his death shortly after graduation. While at College Park, he was an All-American in lacrosse in 1927 and 1928, All-Southern Conference basketball selection and All-Maryland football pick in 1928.

Official installation of the new members is scheduled Dec. 3 at the annual banquet of the University of Maryland "M" Club in Washington.

Others named to the Hall since it was established in 1956 include Babe Ruth, Jimmy Foxx, Charlie Keller, Eddie Rommell and Dr. H. C. Byrd, former university president.

EAGLES' ARM—A 12-year veteran in the National Football League, Norm Van Brocklin of the Philadelphia Eagles is having one of his greatest years as he leads the Eagles to what may be the title. Van Brocklin tossed three touchdown passes last weekend, completed 19 of 30 passes for 295 yards. He is threatening several of the league records.

Brown Selected Best Lineman

Minnesota Guard Star In Iowa Tilt

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Tom Brown, the big but agile Minnesota guard who somehow always manages to top his past performances, topped them all in college football this past weekend and Wednesday was named The Associated Press lineman of the week.

It was Brown, a 240-pounder, who crashed through to break up inside plays and rolled wide to stop sweeps as a linebacker on defense against Iowa. It was Brown, a 23-year-old senior after serving as a Navy cop, who cracked open the holes on offense as Minnesota whipped the Hawkeyes 27-10 and replaced Iowa as the No. 1 team in the nation.

Coach Murray Warmath of Minnesota said "everytime you see him play what you think is his greatest game, he comes up with one that's even better.

"And his play against Iowa was as fine as I have ever seen.

"He has to be the greatest lineman in the country."

The sportswriters and broadcasters balloting in The AP poll agreed. They made Brown an easy winner over Arkansas center Wayne Harris, who played one of his finest games in a 3-0 victory over Rice; Duke's Dwight Bumgarner, a tough tackle in the upset of Navy; and Missouri's Danny Larose, a standout against Colorado.

Perhaps the highest praise for Brown's play came from Iowa's center, Bill Van Buren. "An offensive center doesn't have much chance against him," said Van Buren. "He moves so fast on the ball that just when you're getting off the snap, he's barreling in."

TURNS PRODUCER

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Edward Schreiber, former press agent for Warner Brothers and 20th Century Fox, is launching a career as producer.

His first picture will be "Mad Dog Coll," which is being filmed in New York. It is the story of one of the most notorious gangsters of the '20's who was shot to death in New York City at the age of 23.

Blackburn Quits As Grid Coach

"Blackie," as he was called by many of his associates, became head coach following the resignation of Sid Gillman in 1955. Gillman left the city operated university to enter the professional ranks as a coach.

The Cincinnati team has lost its last five games.

Harmonizing Is Entered In Laurel International

Replaces Injured Sword Dancer

By JOHN CHANDLER

LAUREL, Md. (AP—Harmonizing, a horse from the lower level of the social register, crashed elite circles Wednesday by waltzing cinderella-like into the exclusive Washington D.C. International.

The ninth International, a blue ribbon invitational gallop for $100,000 bringing together the best thoroughbreds available in the world, will be raced Friday over Laurel's infield grass course. At the end of the mile and one half grind $70,000 will be waiting for the one to get there first.

Harmonizing, who once ran in the cheapest of races, replaced the injured Sword Dancer as the second U.S. entry. Eleven horses will start behind the Newmarket-type tape barrier, and the 2-1 favorite is Bald Eagle, who won the 1959 International for Capt. Harry F. Guggenheim, New York copper magnate.

No horse has won this global gallop twice.

Harmonizing, owned by Sadie L. King and Mrs. Dean Demarco, is trained by Mrs. King's husband, Everett. The 6-year-old gelding was bred by socialite sportsman Ogden Phipps, trained by the famed Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons, and claimed at Aqueduct last last July 27 for a paltry $6,500.

On Oct. 22, the chestnut son of Counterpoint—1951 U.S. horse of the year — shocked the Belmont Park patrons by winning the $100,000 Man O' War Stakes at a $77-for-$2 payoff. Trailing second and third, respectively, were Bald Eagle and Brookmeade Stable's Sword Dancer, 1959 horse of the year.

Dark Names Two Coaches

Lochman, Jansen To Join Giants

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Alvin Dark, the new manager of the San Francisco Giants Wednesday named Larry Jansen and Whitey Lockman — two of his old teammates—as team coaches for next season.

Wes Westrum and Salty Parker were being retained as coaches, vice president Charles (Chub) Feeney said, while Bill Posedel—pitching coach for the past two years—would be released.

Jansen was a meal ticket on the old New York Giants pitching staff from 1947 through 1953, winning 21 games for them after joining them as a rookie and following with a 23-11 season in 1951.

The right-hander, who turned 40 in July, had been a coach with the Portland Beavers for the past two seasons and hurled 24 innings for them last season while posting a 1-0 record.

"Jansen turned down a chance to manage Portland in order to rejoin the Giants," Feeney said.

Lockman was a star first baseman and outfielder with the Polo Grounders from 1945 through 1958 then moved over to the American League with Baltimore before returning to Cincinnati as a coach.

Pender To Meet Terry Downes

Conditional Title Bout Set Jan. 21

Promoter Sam Silverman said Wednesday the 15-round bout will be held at the Boston Arena. There will be $65,000 in national television money with a 100-mile video blackout.

Pender will be making his second title defense, having taken the crown from Sugar Ray Robinson Jan. 20 and successfully defended in the rematch on June 10.

Pender is recognized as the middleweight king in two states and most of Europe.

Downes, the English middleweight champion, defeated Joey Giardello three weeks ago in a major triumph. Giardello previously had battle to a draw with Gene Fullmer, recognized as middleweight king by the National Boxing Association.

If Downes wins the Saturday night bout, he has agreed to a return fight within 90 days, Silverman said.

DETROIT—Baseball scouts tab Detroit Lions halfback Bruce Maher as a fine diamond prospect, saying "he swings the best bat in the Motor City area."

Maris is a 26-year-old, Minnesota-born athlete who led the American League in runs batted in (112) and slugging percentage (.581) while hitting .283. His 39 home runs put him one behind Mantle's title-winning 40.

This was Maris' fourth season in the majors. He began with Cleveland, then went to Kansas City. The Yankees acquired him last December along with Joe Demaestri and Kent Hadley from Kansas City for Don Larsen, Marv Throneberry, Hank Bauer and Norm Siebern.

Six Baltimore Orioles and two Washington Senators received votes. The Orioles, in addition to Robinson, were Ron Hansen, 110 points; Chuck Estrada 28, Jim Gentile 21, Steve Barber 7 and Gene Woodling 3.

Four of the Orioles named were rookies—Hansen, Estrada, Gentile and Barber.

COAST DAZZLER—Most spectacular back on the West coast is Bill Kilmer, the U.C.L.A. All-American dazzler, who had his biggest day against California last weekend when he gained 225 yards, scored two touchdowns, quick-kicked three times and completed 8 of 11 passes.

Colts Utilize Unitas' Arm To Lead NFL On Offense

Baltimore Gains 1,721 Yards Passing

NEW YORK (UPI)—The Baltimore Colts, who have utilized Johnny Unitas' passing arm for 64 per cent of their yardage, have pulled away to a commanding lead in the National Football League's total offense race.

According to league statistics released Wednesday, Baltimore has gained 1,721 yards by passing and 962 by rushing for a total of 2,683. The Colts passing yardage is high for the league and they have taken over first place in scoring with a total of 214 points.

To emphasize the Colts, reliance on passing, their rushing yardage total is only fifth in the league. The St. Louis Cardinals are the No. 1 rushing team with 1,288 yards, followed by the Green Bay packers (1,130), the Cleveland Browns (1,004) and the San Francisco Forty-Niners (981).

Second To Colts

The Pittsburgh Steelers are second to the Colts in passing with 1,500 yards, followed by the Philadelphia Eagles (1,440), the Dallas Cowboys (1,111) and the Cardinals (1,088).

Baltimore, Dallas, Los Angeles, Pittsburgh, St. Louis and San Francisco have played 7 games each; all others have played 6.

The Eagles lead the league in punting with an average of 45.7 yards. All of Philadelphia's punting has been handled by Norm Van Brocklin, the N.F.L.'s individual leader in that department.

In defense, the New York Giants, who held the Browns to a net of 6 yards on the ground last Sunday, have moved into first place in ground defense with an average yield of 3.3 yards per opponent rush. The Eagles took over the pass defense lead. They have permitted their opponents to complete only 44.7 per cent of their passes.

Taylor Replaces Brown

Among the individual departments, the only change from last week was in rushing, where Jim Taylor of the Packers replaced Jimmy Brown of Cleveland. Taylor was first with 540 yards, followed by John David Crow of the Cardinals with 524. Brown, held to 29 yards by the Giants, dropped to third with a total of 521.

Milt Plum of the Browns remained tops in passing. Ray Berry of the Colts held his pass receiving lead. Van Brocklin again was tops in punting and Paul Hornung of the Packers No. 1 in scoring.

Plum has a pass completion percentage of 68.7, has gained an average of 10.86 yards per pass and has not had an interception. Unitas, with a completion percentage of 53.2, 17 touchdown throws and total gains of 1,778 yards, was second.

Berry has caught 46 passes for a total of 862 yards and Hornung has scored 83 points on 7 touchdowns, 20 conversions and 7 field goals.

Bill Butler of Dallas and Johnny Sample of Baltimore remained first in punt returns and kickoff returns, respectively, while Jerry Norton of St. Louis and Don Shinnick of Baltimore moved into a first-place tie with Andy Nelson of the Colts in pass interceptions. All have stolen 5 passes.

BALTIMORE — Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt, former president of Pimlico, won the 1950 Dixie Handicap with Loser Weeper. After the race he called the track announcer and said: "Finest call I ever heard you make."

SPORTS SPUTTERINGS

By Walter L. Johns, Central Press Sports Editor

THE FIGHTING IRISH of Notre Dame, still fighting but staggering on the ropes, are going through what could be their worst season in 72 years of glorious deeds on the gridiron and little hope is held for all-out success the rest of the way.

And poor Joe Kuharich, the old pro coach and one of the illustrious Notre Damers of the past, is staggering, too, as injuries and an assortment of bad breaks have reduced the nation's No. 1 team to an also-ran in a field of high pressure football.

Some tell you that Notre Dame has de-emphasized, that the talent which came the way of the Golden Dome is going elsewhere. Some are still criticizing the Terry Brennan case and some will tell you that Kuharich is not the man for the job.

STATISTICALLY, the book is in deep red ink, for as the Irish headed into the last three games on the schedule, only one victory, in the opener with California, is on the record and even North Carolina, which hasn't won another game, is included in the Irish equalizers.

Injuries continue to pile up on the Irish, who opened the season with an assortment of knee ailments which virtually made the training room a hospital ward.

While the end result is putrid, the Irish play has been surprisingly good for in five of the defeats the Irish had the advantage in statistics but lacked that scoring punch or defense to win it. As an example of the hospital horrids this year, seven different boys have been tried at fullback.

Red Mack, the team's No. 1 offensive threat, was hurt early and instead of being the big gun he is out and carried the ball only nine times. Eighteen different players have carried the ball from scrimmage, with the leading rusher, George Sefcik, off and on because of injuries.

NOTRE DAME'S record on the grid over the years is a spectacular one. Only twice since 1900 has the team had a losing season, in 1933 and in 1956, and again this year.

The Irish have had 17 coaches, with the one and only Knute Rockne finishing with 105 wins against 12 losses and Frank Leahy, in two different assignments, winding up with 87 wins and 11 losses. The Notre Dame overall record shows seven national championships and 18 undefeated seasons.

High School, Men's Rec Basketball Loops Hold First Meeting

A joint meeting was held last night of the High School and Men's Rec Basketball Leagues at City Hall with nine teams represented at the first organizational session.

C. Eugene Mason, recreation director, said a general discussion of league operations was held and by-laws for the coming year were outlined.

Entry fees are due at the next meeting of the leagues on November 17 at 8 p. m. at City Hall.

In the high school division the representatives were Fort Hill Hi-Y, Andy Petenbrink; Val's Cadets, Val DeArcangelis; and DeMolay, John Poling.

Audubon Plans Eagle Inventory

The National Audubon Society announced it will undertake an inventory of bald eagle numbers in North America.

The study is prompted, Society President Carl W. Buchheister reported, by widespread reports of a serious downward trend in the population of the great, white-headed bird that serves the United States as its national emblem.

The eagle has managed to survive in fair numbers in the Chesapeake Bay region, writes Brook Meanley and Fred G. Schmid in the March-April 1960 issue of the "Maryland Conservationist". However, 30 years ago, the bald eagle nested on the average of every three miles along the shores of the Chesapeake.

It is only the acquisition of large tracts of land by the military, and the presence of large farms held by persons on the upper Eastern Shore that prevents the eagle from disappearing completely from the Bay region. In Maryland, good sections for nesting eagles are on the military reservations of the Upper Bay, the Chester and Potomac Rivers.

Keeneland race track in Kentucky, which marks its 25th birthday, is a non-profit organization, and all officers serve without pay.

Maryland Hall Of Fame Adds Four Members

Johnny Neun Among Honored Athletes

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP)—The Maryland Athletic Hall of Fame has added four new members, bringing the all-time total membership to 24.

The new members include a woman, the Hall's second. The latest is Elizabeth (Toots) Barger, prominent Baltimore duckpin bowler. She has ten times been the top ranking woman bowler in the United States and holds four individual world records.

Other new additions to the Hall of Fame are John H. Neun, J. Thomas Kibler and the late Fred Linkous.

Neun, an executive in the New York Yankee baseball organization, has been a soccer and baseball authority in the Baltimore area for several years. His baseball career extends over 40 years as a player, coach and manager in both major leagues.

An Eastern Shore sports figure for about half a century, Kibler is a former baseball player, coach and league president. He coached at Washington College until 1958.

Linkous was a University of Maryland star athlete before his death shortly after graduation. While at College Park, he was an All-American in lacrosse in 1927 and 1928, All-Southern Conference basketball selection and All-Maryland football pick in 1928.

Official installation of the new members is scheduled Dec. 3 at the annual banquet of the University of Maryland "M" Club in Washington.

Others named to the Hall since it was established in 1956 include Babe Ruth, Jimmy Foxx, Charlie Keller, Eddie Rommell and Dr. H. C. Byrd, former university president.

EAGLES' ARM—A 12-year veteran in the National Football League, Norm Van Brocklin of the Philadelphia Eagles is having one of his greatest years as he leads the Eagles to what may be the title. Van Brocklin tossed three touchdown passes last weekend, completed 19 of 30 passes for 295 yards. He is threatening several of the league records.

Brown Selected Best Lineman

Minnesota Guard Star In Iowa Tilt

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Tom Brown, the big but agile Minnesota guard who somehow always manages to top his past performances, topped them all in college football this past weekend and Wednesday was named The Associated Press lineman of the week.

It was Brown, a 240-pounder, who crashed through to break up inside plays and rolled wide to stop sweeps as a linebacker on defense against Iowa. It was Brown, a 23-year-old senior after serving as a Navy cop, who cracked open the holes on offense as Minnesota whipped the Hawkeyes 27-10 and replaced Iowa as the No. 1 team in the nation.

Coach Murray Warmath of Minnesota said "everytime you see him play what you think is his greatest game, he comes up with one that's even better.

"And his play against Iowa was as fine as I have ever seen.

"He has to be the greatest lineman in the country."

The sportswriters and broadcasters balloting in The AP poll agreed. They made Brown an easy winner over Arkansas center Wayne Harris, who played one of his finest games in a 3-0 victory over Rice; Duke's Dwight Bumgarner, a tough tackle in the upset of Navy; and Missouri's Danny Larose, a standout against Colorado.

Perhaps the highest praise for Brown's play came from Iowa's center, Bill Van Buren. "An offensive center doesn't have much chance against him," said Van Buren. "He moves so fast on the ball that just when you're getting off the snap, he's barreling in."

Blackburn Quits As Grid Coach

"Blackie," as he was called by many of his associates, became head coach following the resignation of Sid Gillman in 1955. Gillman left the city operated university to enter the professional ranks as a coach.

The Cincinnati team has lost its last five games.

Harmonizing Is Entered In Laurel International

Replaces Injured Sword Dancer

By JOHN CHANDLER

LAUREL, Md. (AP—Harmonizing, a horse from the lower level of the social register, crashed elite circles Wednesday by waltzing cinderella-like into the exclusive Washington D.C. International.

The ninth International, a blue ribbon invitational gallop for $100,000 bringing together the best thoroughbreds available in the world, will be raced Friday over Laurel's infield grass course. At the end of the mile and one half grind $70,000 will be waiting for the one to get there first.

Harmonizing, who once ran in the cheapest of races, replaced the injured Sword Dancer as the second U.S. entry. Eleven horses will start behind the Newmarket-type tape barrier, and the 2-1 favorite is Bald Eagle, who won the 1959 Inernational for Capt. Harry F. Guggenheim, New York copper magnate.

No horse has won this global gallop twice.

Harmonizing, owned by Sadie L. King and Mrs. Dean Demarco, is trained by Mrs. King's husband, Everett. The 6-year-old gelding was bred by socialite sportsman Ogden Phipps, trained by the famed Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons, and claimed at Aqueduct last last July 27 for a paltry $6,500.

On Oct. 22, the chestnut son of Counterpoint—1951 U.S. horse of the year — shocked the Belmont Park patrons by winning the $100,000 Man O' War Stakes at a $77-for-$2 payoff. Trailing second and third, respectively, were Bald Eagle and Brookmeade Stable's Sword Dancer, 1959 horse of the year.

Dark Names Two Coaches

Lochman, Jansen To Join Giants

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Alvin Dark, the new manager of the San Francisco Giants Wednesday named Larry Jansen and Whitey Lockman — two of his old teammates—as team coaches for next season.

Wes Westrum and Salty Parker were being retained as coaches, vice president Charles (Chub) Feeney said, while Bill Posedel—pitching coach for the past two years—would be released.

Jansen was a meal ticket on the old New York Giants pitching staff from 1947 through 1953, winning 21 games for them after joining them as a rookie and following with a 23-11 season in 1951.

The right-hander, who turned 40 in July, had been a coach with the Portland Beavers for the past two seasons and hurled 24 innings for them last season while posting a 1-0 record.

"Jansen turned down a chance to manage Portland in order to rejoin the Giants," Feeney said.

Lockman was a star first baseman and outfielder with the Polo Grounders from 1945 through 1953 then moved over to the American League with Baltimore before returning to Cincinnati as a coach.

Pender To Meet Terry Downes

Conditional Title Bout Set Jan. 21

Promoter Sam Silverman said Wednesday the 15-round bout will be held at the Boston Arena. There will be $65,000 in national television money with a 100-mile video blackout.

Pender will be making his second title defense, having taken the crown from Sugar Ray Robinson Jan. 20 and successfully defended in the rematch on June 10.

Pender is recognized as the middleweight king in two states and most of Europe.

Downes, the English middleweight champion, defeated Joey Giardello three weeks ago in a major triumph. Giardello previously had battle to a draw with Gene Fullmer, recognized as middleweight king by the National Boxing Association.

If Downes wins the Saturday night bout, he has agreed to a return fight within 90 days, Silverman said.

DETROIT—Baseball scouts tab Detroit Lions halfback Bruce Maher as a fine diamond prospect, saying "he swings the best bat in the Motor City area."

Minnesota Figures To Stay On Top By Defeating Purdue

Other Probable Winners Named

By STEVE SNIDER

NEW YORK (UPI) — Back in the 1930's, before coach Bernie Bierman hit his stride, they used to say, "Minnesota football teams are beautiful but dumb." In Bierman's peak years, they were simply "beautiful." Keyser Church Cage League Opens Dec. 10

Eight Teams To Play 56 Games

The eight-team Keyser Church Basketball League will open its 56-game schedule at Keyser High School gym on December 10, officials announced last night. The league's playoffs will then get under way on March 13.

Opening round opponents will be Presbyterian vs. United Brethren; Grace Methodist vs. Brethren; First Methodist vs. Lutheran; and Catholic vs. Janes Methodist.

All players must attend church or Sunday School at least three times a month and each player must play for the church to which he belongs.

Each church will provide one adult sponsor for its team and each team will be limited to a roster of 15 players.

Trophies will be awarded to the winning team and the runner-up during regular season play. The Keyser Ministerium will also provide trophies for the winner and runner-up of the playoffs.

Touch Football Playoffs Begin This Sunday

Playoffs will begin on Sunday at 1 p. m. at Post field in the Adult Touch Football League, C. Eugene Mason, recreation director, announced last night.

A flip of a coin decided a tie for second place between the Old Germans and State Farm. State Farm won the toss to take second and the Old Germans will clash with the regular season victor, Old Exports in the second game of the day at 2 p. m.

Finals will be held at Post field on November 20.

In the High School Touch Football League the final regular season game between Cumberland Squires and Frostburg Squires is set for today at 3:20 p. m. at Stitcher Field. If Frostburg wins the game, the Squires will tie the Independents for second place.

A playoff for second place between the Frostburg Squires and the Independents is set for 3:34 p. m. on Friday at Stitcher Field in the event a tie does exist. However, a loss by Frostburg to Cumberland today will eliminate Friday's contest.

The top teams will meet for the championship of the league on Sunday at 2 p. m. at Stitcher Field. Allegany Hi-Y captured the regular season crown with six consecutive victories.

Wismer Expelled As 'Skins Owner

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Football League has expelled Harry Wismer as part owner of the Washington Redskins and has ordered him to sell his stock in the club within 30 days, Commissioner Pete Rozelle said Wednesday. Wismer also is president of the New York Titans in the American Football League.

Rozelle said if the stock is not sold by Dec. 8 it would be offered at public sale. Wismer, also a sports announcer, has a 26 per cent interest in the Redskin club.

It is because of Wismer's holdings in the AFL that the action was taken, Rozelle explained.

The Pikes Peak Hill Climb, established in 1916 and running only 12.42 miles in length, is the second oldest event on the United States Auto Club calendar.

YMCA Cage Loop To Meet

The Central YMCA Sunday School Basketball League will hold its final meeting prior to the start of the regular season when team representatives and league officials will convene tonight at 7:30 at the Y.

Tonight's meeting will be the deadline for league fees, player applications and team rosters. Teams failing to meet this deadline will be unable to compete in the league this year.

Final practice sessions also will be assigned at the Allegany and YMCA gyms at tonight's meeting.

League play will begin Saturday, November 19, with the National League composed of younger players and the American League comprising the older youths. The National League games will be played at Allegany and the American League contests will be scheduled at the Y.

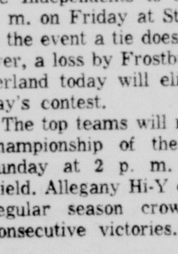

Last season's circuit was made up of 28 teams and newcomers this year are expected to be St. Matthew's, Second Baptist, McKendree Methodist, LaVale Baptist, Mapleside Methodist and Evangelical United Brethren.

League president Floyd "Pete" Elliott said a referee's clinic will be held next Thursday and Friday at 7 p. m. at the YMCA. Officials who have worked past league games and new referees are urged to attend this clinic.

Boat Kills Deer

Deer have become so plentiful in Somerset County that persons are now running over them with boats, reports Regional Game Warden, J. P. Smith, Salisbury. On October 18, about 8 p. m., Alex Wilkerson, Westover, Md., was going up the Manokin River in his yacht and all of a sudden hit an object which he thought was a log. Upon investigating he found that he had hit and killed a 2 point buck.

SOUTHERN SUCCESS STORY -By Alan Maver

The Sports Patrol

By STEVE SNIDER

NEW YORK (UPI) — George Weiss, a key man with the New York Yankees for 29 years before he stepped "sidewards" to an advisory capacity, counts these as his sweetest personal memories:

Best achievement — Signing Joe DiMaggio for the Yankees.

There are, of course, a flock of pennants that can be unfurled at Yankee Stadium as a result of the teaming of Weiss, the winter-time manager and Casey Stengel, the summer manager.

Each represents a magnificent milestone in the lives of those two men who, within the space of a few brief weeks, both have disappeared from their Yankee command posts.

But George is the business man and the business of DiMaggio, Lopat, Turley and Larsen represent the peak of personal satisfaction in his long association with the Yankees.

"The bad deals you don't talk about," he said. "There always are too many of that kind, anyway."

Deal With Birds Best

But ask George about his "best" job and it always turns out to be the Joe DiMaggio case.

"As for trades, I always thought the Ed Lopat deal was the best until we were able to get Larsen and Turley," according to Weiss. "We got quite a bit of mileage from those two, including Larsen's perfect game in the World Series. And Turley was still there with the 1960 pennant winners."

In the light of later developments, it seems off there'd be any question whatsoever of buying DiMaggio, who had been a minor league sensation at San Francisco in 1933-34-35.

But Joe had a gimpy knee in those days and the $25,000 price tag on him loomed large in the depression era. Further, owner Jake Ruppert, who had great confidence in Weiss as director of Yankee farms, had decided the Yankee future was in development on the farms, not buying in the minor league market.

Sold Ruppert On DiMag

Lopat had pitched successfully for the White Sox from 1944-47 when Weiss had an urgent need for an experienced left-hander. He swapped catcher Aaron Robinson, pitchers Fred Bradley and Bill Wright to Chicago in exchange for Lopat and thereby nailed a man who continued to win the big games against the top clubs from '48 until late in '55.

Turley and Larsen came to the Yankees in time for the 1955 season in a Baltimore deal involving 16 players. Larsen pitched on four Yankee pennant winners and flipped his perfect game against the Brooklyn Dodgers in 1957. Turley made it with five pennant winners and was pitcher of the year in '58.

Giants Win Ninth Game In Japan, 11-5

SHIMONOSEKI, Japan (AP) — The San Francisco Giants walloped the Japan All-Stars 11-5 Wednesday in the 13th game of their 16-game baseball goodwill tour of Japan.

This gives the Giants nine wins, three defeats and one tie against teams selected from Japan's two professional baseball leagues.

Match Rescheduled

The Frostburg Eagles will host the Hi Dee Bar in an Allegany County Women's Shuffleboard League match at 8:30 p. m. on Friday. The three-game match was postponed from last week.

Cage Twin Bills Are Announced

CHICAGO (UPI) — Six college basketball double-headers, at the Chicago stadium featuring national champion Ohio State, NIT winner Bradley and champions of three conferences, were announced Wednesday by Arthur Morse, assistant to the athletic director at Loyola University.

Ohio State will meet Loyola and Northwestern will play California, Big Five champion and runner-up for the nation title, n o the opening program Dec. 19.

Bradley will play Notre Dame on the Feb. 14 program with Loyola facing Marquette in the other game.

Cincinnati, Missouri Valley Conference champion and a semi-finalist in the national tournament, will play Iowa of the Big Ten on Feb. 4 and Loyla will meet Detroit the same night.

Defense May Be Key To Coach's Job

Top Defensive Teams Have Best Records

By The Associated Press

Current defense statistics for major college football, as compiled by the NCAA Service Bureau, lend strong support to the belief that a good tough defensive line is the best insurance for a coach's job. But then there's Minnesota to provide the exception.

Of the first six teams on the rushing defense table, three have perfect records, one has been tied but not beaten and the other two show a total of three defeats.

But Minnesota, undefeated and rated No. 1 in the nation by the experts, is only 13th in that category and 10th in total defense. That doesn't mean the Gopher linemen aren't big and tough. They were eighth in rushing defense until last Saturday's game against Iowa.

In order, the rushing defense leaders are Missouri (8-0), Utah State (8-0), Wyoming (6-2), Yale (7-0), Alabama (5-1-1) and Mississippi (7-0-1). None has given up as much as 100 yards a game average to running attacks. Missouri's leading figure is 72.9 yards a game.

Utah State is No. 1 and Missouri No. 3 in rushing offense.

The other defense leaders are Wyoming, total defense, 144.8 yards a game; Iowa State, pass defense, 29.3 yards a game; Georgia, punting, 42.9-yard average on 30 kicks, and Alabama and Rice, defense against scoring, allowing only 4.6 points a game.

Iowa State's pass defense average is the lowest since Michigan State won the title with 26.7 in 1944. The defense obviously has discouraged enemy passers, for they've tried only 66 and completed 21, a 31.8 per cent average. Only Auburn has a better record — 28.6 per cent completions on 26 of 91, plus 18 interceptions.

YMCA Cage Loop To Meet

The Central YMCA Sunday School Basketball League will hold its final meeting prior to the start of the regular season when team representatives and league officials will convene tonight at 7:30 at the Y.

Tonight's meeting will be the deadline for league fees, player applications and team rosters. Teams failing to meet this deadline will be unable to compete in the league this year.

Final practice sessions also will be assigned at the Allegany and YMCA gyms at tonight's meeting.

League play will begin Saturday, November 19, with the National League composed of younger players and the American League comprising the older youths. The National League games will be played at Allegany and the American League contests will be scheduled at the Y.

Last season's circuit was made up of 28 teams and newcomers this year are expected to be St. Matthew's, Second Baptist, McKendree Methodist, LaVale Baptist, Mapleside Methodist and Evangelical United Brethren.

League president Floyd "Pete" Elliott said a referee's clinic will be held next Thursday and Friday at 7 p. m. at the YMCA. Officials who have worked past league games and new referees are urged to attend this clinic.

Boat Kills Deer

Deer have become so plentiful in Somerset County that persons are now running over them with boats, reports Regional Game Warden, J. P. Smith, Salisbury. On October 18, about 8 p. m., Alex Wilkerson Westover, Md., was going up the Manokin River in his yacht and all of a sudden hit an object which he thought was a log. Upon investigating he found that he had hit and killed a 2 point buck.

Keyser Church Cage League Opens Dec. 10

Eight Teams To Play 56 Games

The eight-team Keyser Church Basketball League will open its 56-game schedule at Keyser High School gym on December 10, officials announced last night. The league's playoffs will then get under way on March 13.

Opening round opponents will be Presbyterian vs. United Brethren; Grace Methodist vs. Brethren; First Methodist vs. Lutheran; and Catholic vs. Janes Methodist.

Games will be played every Saturday with the gym opening at 8:30 and the first game getting under way at 9 o'clock. The other tilts will start at 10, 11 and 12 o'clock.

Eligible players are those in the ninth grade or lower and whose 16th birthday does not fall before September 1.

Players on the Keyser Junior and Senior High varsity teams will not be eligible to play. This is a ruling of the West Virginia High School Athletic Association which prohibits varsity players from playing on independent teams.

All players must attend church or Sunday School at least three times a month and each player must play for the church to which he belongs.

Each church will provide one adult sponsor for its team and each team will be limited to a roster of 15 players.

Trophies will be awarded to the winning team and the runner-up during regular season play. The Keyser Ministerium will also provide trophies for the winner and runner-up of the playoffs.

The annual league banquet will be held at the close of the season. The schedule:

Touch Football Playoffs Begin This Sunday

Playoffs will begin on Sunday at 1 p. m. at Post field in the Adult Touch Football League, C. Eugene Mason, recreation director, announced last night.

A flip of a coin decided a tie for second place between the Old Germans and State Farm. State Farm won the toss to take second and the Old Germans will clash with the regular season victor, Old Exports in the second game of the day at 2 p. m.

A special playoff for fourth place between Liberty Trust and Redmen will open the activity at 1 o'clock.

Following the single semi-final clash between the Old Exports and Old Germans, the winner of the Liberty Trust-Redmen game will meet State Farm at 3 p. m. in the second semi-final contest.

Finals will be held at Post field on November 20.

In the High School Touch Football League the final regular season game between Cumberland Squires and Frostburg Squires is set for today at 3:20 p. m. at Stitcher Field. If Frostburg wins the game, the Squires will tie the Independents for second place.

A playoff for second place between the Frostburg Squires and the Independents is set for 3:34 p. m. on Friday at Stitcher Field in the event a tie does exist. However, a loss by Frostburg to Cumberland today will eliminate Friday's contest.

The top teams will meet for the championship of the league on Sunday at 2 p. m. at Stitcher Field. Allegany Hi-Y captured the regular season crown with six consecutive victories.

Wismer Expelled As 'Skins Owner

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Football League has expelled Harry Wismer as part owner of the Washington Redskins and has ordered him to sell his stock in the club within 30 days, Commissioner Pete Rozelle said Wednesday. Wismer also is president of the New York Titans in the American Football League.

Rozelle said if the stock is not sold by Dec. 8 it would be offered at public sale. Wismer, also a sports announcer, has a 26 per cent interest in the Redskin club.

It is because of Wismer's holdings in the AFL that the action was taken, Rozelle explained.

The Pikes Peak Hill Climb, established in 1916 and running only 12.42 miles in length, is the second oldest event on the United States Auto Club calendar.

SOUTHERN SUCCESS STORY -By Alan Maver

The Sports Patrol

By STEVE SNIDER

NEW YORK (UPI) — George Weiss, a key man with the New York Yankees for 29 years before he stepped "sidewards" to an advisory capacity, counts these as his sweetest personal memories:

Best achievement — Signing Joe DiMaggio for the Yankees.

There are, of course, a flock of pennants that can be unfurled at Yankee Stadium as a result of the teaming of Weiss, the winter-time manager and Casey Stengel, the summer manager.

Each represents a magnificent milestone in the lives of those two men who, within the space of a few brief weeks, both have disappeared from their Yankee command posts.

But George is the business man and the business of DiMaggio, Lopat, Turley and Larsen represent the peak of personal satisfaction in his long association with the Yankees.

"The bad deals you don't talk about," he said. "There always are too many of that kind, anyway."

Deal With Birds Best

But ask George about his "best" job and it always turns out to be the Joe DiMaggio case.

"As for trades, I always thought the Ed Lopat deal was the best until we were able to get Larsen and Turley," according to Weiss. "We got quite a bit of mileage from those two, including Larsen's perfect game in the World Series. And Turley was still there with the 1960 pennant winners."

In the light of later developments, it seems off there'd be any question whatsoever of buying DiMaggio, who had been a minor league sensation at San Francisco in 1933-34-35.

But Joe had a gimpy knee in those days and the $25,000 price tag on him loomed large in the depression era. Further, owner Jake Ruppert, who had great confidence in Weiss as director of Yankee farms, had decided the Yankee future was in development on the farms, not buying in the minor league market.

Sold Ruppert On DiMag

Lopat had pitched successfully for the White Sox from 1944-47 when Weiss had an urgent need for an experienced left-hander. He swapped catcher Aaron Robinson, pitchers Fred Bradley and Bill Wright to Chicago in exchange for Lopat and thereby nailed a man who continued to win the big games against the top clubs from '48 until late in '55.

Turley and Larsen came to the Yankees in time for the 1955 season in a Baltimore deal involving 16 players. Larsen pitched on four Yankee pennant winners and flipped his perfect game against the Brooklyn Dodgers in 1957. Turley made it with five pennant winners and was pitcher of the year in '58.

Giants Win Ninth Game In Japan, 11-5

SHIMONOSEKI, Japan (AP) — The San Francisco Giants walloped the Japan All-Stars 11-5 Wednesday in the 13th game of their 16-game baseball goodwill tour of Japan.

This gives the Giants nine wins, three defeats and one tie against teams selected from Japan's two professional baseball leagues.

Match Rescheduled

The Frostburg Eagles will host the Hi Dee Bar in an Allegany County Women's Shuffleboard League match at 8:30 p. m. on Friday. The three-game match was postponed from last week.

Cage Twin Bills Are Announced

CHICAGO (UPI) — Six college basketball double-headers, at the Chicago stadium featuring national champion Ohio State, NIT winner Bradley and champions of three conferences, were announced Wednesday by Arthur Morse, assistant to the athletic director at Loyola University.

Ohio State will meet Loyola and Northwestern will play California, Big Five champion and runner-up for the nation title, n o the opening program Dec. 19.

Bradley will play Notre Dame on the Feb. 14 program with Loyola facing Marquette in the other game.

Cincinnati, Missouri Valley Conference champion and a semi-finalist in the national tournament, will play Iowa of the Big Ten on Feb. 4 and Loyla will meet Detroit the same night.

Market Closes With Gain Following Early Tailspin

NEW YORK (UPI) — An election-sensitive stock market went into an early tailspin Wednesday, but staged an 11th hour recovery to close with its seventh successive gain.

The initial sell-off was attributed largely to an emotional reaction to the Democratic triumph. Brokers appeared little disturbed at this point, however, feeling that the political development had been anticipated and already discounted.

They also said that with the Dow - Jones industrial average probing a level of heavy resistance, the going was apt to be rough anyway and election results served as a good excuse to back down.

With the final Kennedy decision firmly set in traders' minds as an established fact of life and inflation talk licking at the imagination, the stock market made a complete turnabout.

Oil stocks were down heavily all day on fears of a Democratic probe of the industry's depletion allowance but even these issues shaved their losses. Defense issues reaped points on the expectation of increased government spending.

Market Closes With Gain Following Early Tailspin

NEW YORK (UPI) — An election-sensitive stock market went into an early tailspin Wednesday, but staged an 11th hour recovery to close with its seventh successive gain.

Post - election jitters triggered the sharp selloff in the second hour. However, a late buying wave enabled the market to erase the losses and finish higher.

The Dow-Jones industrial average, down around 7½ points at one time, finished up 4.62 to 602.25. Rail issues dropped 0.24 to 127.79 and utilities eased 0.08 to 93.09.

The ticker ran behind transactions during the early plunge and again during the late recovery with volume amounting to 3,450,000 shares against 3,540,000 on Monday.

The initial sell-off was attributed largely to an emotional reaction to the Democratic triumph. Brokers appeared little disturbed at this point, however, feeling that the political development had been anticipated and already discounted.

They also said that with the Dow - Jones industrial average probing a level of heavy resistance, the going was apt to be rough anyway and election results served as a good excuse to back down.

With the final Kennedy decision firmly set in traders' minds as an established fact of life and inflation talk licking at the imagination, the stock market made a complete turnabout.

Oil stocks were down heavily all day on fears of a Democratic probe of the industry's depletion allowance but even these issues shaved their losses. Defense issues reaped points on the expectation of increased government spending.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our dear mother, Mrs. Mary E. Brown, who departed this life November 10, 1959.
The depths of sorrow we cannot tell,
Of the loss of one we loved so well.
And while she sleeps a peaceful sleep,
Her memory we shall always keep.
Sadly missed by her daughter,
EDITH ERICKSON and Son,
EDWARD BROWN

BOOR—In memory of Carl R. Boor, who passed away November 10, 1950.
It is not the tears at the time, we shed,
Which tell our hearts are broken.
But the silent tears in the after years
And remembrances silently spoken.
The flowers we place upon your grave
May wither and decay,
But the love for him who sleeps beneath,
Will never fade away.
Sadly missed by—
WIFE, DAUGHTER and SON

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our dear mother, Mrs. Mary E. Brown, who departed this life November 10, 1939.
The depths of sorrow we cannot tell,
Of the loss of one we loved so well.
And while she sleeps a peaceful sleep,
Her memory we shall always keep.
Sadly missed by her daughter,
EDITH ERICKSON and Son,
EDWARD BROWN

BOOR—In memory of Carl R. Boor, who passed away November 10, 1950.
It is not the tears at the time, we shed,
Which tell our hearts are broken.
But the silent tears in the after years
And remembrances silently spoken.
The flowers we place upon your grave
May wither and decay,
But the love for him who sleeps beneath,
Will never fade away.
Sadly missed by
WIFE, DAUGHTER and SON

Survey Outlines Mineral School Building Plans

Consultants Give Priority Listing

A new senior high school at Short Gap, W. Va., which would house students of Ridgeley and Fort Ashby is high on the priority list of recommendations made in a recent extensive study of future needs of the Mineral County public schools system.

E. Michael Welshonce, Keyser, assistant superintendent of public schools, has been explaining the proposed schedule for new construction to the county residents in a series of talks illustrated with slides.

Last night he spoke at a meeting of the Parent-Teachers Associations of Ridgeley high school and elementary school.

The comprehensive 39-page survey was compiled by Howard B. Allen and Robert D. Baldwin, consultants in school administration and school building surveys at West Virginia University.

The survey, made at the request of the Mineral County Board of Education, is now being studied by that group which has neither accepted or rejected the plans, said Mr. Welshonce.

Junior High First

The first project in the program would be a junior high school on the southern fringe of Keyser, according to the consultants, who feel that when junior high school students are withdrawn from Keyser High School, senior high students will be in position to reap superior educational advantages.

Likewise, immediate benefits will accrue to Piedmont and Elk Garden senior high students as they share the improved program made possible by a new building for junior high students of Keyser.

Second in importance will be the senior high school at Short Gap. Although at first the center would serve less than 400, its completion would improve conditions at Fort Ashby and Ridgeley high schools and would result in benefits to certain elementary groups that may be housed with the junior high until growth forces further elementary school construction.

Emergency Cited

They said the schools system faces an emergency at New Creek Elementary School where six new classrooms can provide a modern school for 250 pupils. There are no alternatives except to put up with a hazardous, unhealthy, depressing plant, the consultants said. Reconstructed, the school can help relieve elementary congestion at Keyser.

Fourth in order would be elementary school improvement in Keyser. "It is time to erect separate units about town to serve better little folks to walk to school and go home for lunch," according to the consultants, who said "money spent on the present archaic buildings is wasted."

"In all fairness children at Keyser should be provided with simple, functional units like the one at Short Gap. For the 800 pupils to be accommodated, at least three such units are needed," they pointed out.

Ridgeley Building "Antique"

Fifth on the list of considerations is another elementary group in Ridgeley. Some improvements may reach these as the senior high school at Short Gap releases space in Ridgeley High School which will offer temporary refuge from the elementary "antique." An immediate measure to share equitably the program of school improvement would be to construct a "primary" school in Carpenter's Addition.

A four-room modern building would care for local "walk-ins" and transported children brought from Ridgeley on the bus that takes high school students out.

Sixth in order will be facilities to better elementary school conditions at Piedmont and Beryl. Piedmont high students would benefit by going to Keyser Senior High.

Space so vacated would confer real benefits on elementary pupils who could then use the enlarged Piedmont high school. In fact, the consultants said, the addition of four rooms there would provide a plant second to none in the county as well as appropriate recognition to Piedmont's earnest effort to improve its school.

The cost estimate range for the overall program would be from $1,648,000 to $2,122,000, the consultants figure.

Witwer Loses To Sen. Douglas

Latest unofficial returns last night from 9,909 of the state's 10,015 polling places gave Douglas 2,489,044 votes to Witwer's 2,067,247.

Many Citizens Vote In Only One Contest

542 Unrecorded In Top Race

Allegany County election totals reveal that a good many of the citizens who went to the polls Tuesday went there with the intentions of voting only one contest.

Although 34,237 persons went to the polls, some 542 of them did not vote in the Presidential race. Unofficial totals revealed that 33,695 voted either for Vice President Richard M. Nixon or Senator John F. Kennedy. Nixon got 59.9 per cent of them, with 20,182 to Kennedy's 13,513. The 542 who did not ballot in this race constituted 1.6 per cent of those who went to the polls.

Some 1,550 or 4.5 per cent of those who voted Tuesday failed to make a choice between Charles McC. Mathias Jr., the new Congressman from the Sixth District, and John R. Foley, the man he unseated. Mathias polled 19,228 and Foley only 13,459.

It was anticipated that a large percentage of the Allegany County voters would waive their right to vote on the 15 proposed State Constitutional amendments and the referendum on the Potomac River Compact.

Complete but unofficial totals reveal that the heaviest vote on any of these issues was on the Potomac River Compact where 8,362 or 24.4 per cent of this voting expressed themselves. That is quite one of every four going to the polls. The majority here opposed this compact, 4,332 to 4,030.

The smallest vote among the 15 constitutional amendments was on Amendment No. 7, which involved land condemnation in Montgomery County. On this matter only one in seven bothered to express an opinion. The total cast for and against this amendment was 4,654 or only 13.6 per cent of those who went to the polls. This was one of six amendments on which a majority of those voting were opposed to the proposal. Some 2,454 voted against and 2,200 in favor of this condemnation amendment.

Dr. Carter Moves To New Jersey

Joined ABL Staff Here In 1959

Dr. Richard P. Carter, who has been technical assistant to the manager of Allegany Ballistics Laboratory since 1959, has been appointed to the post of technical superintendent at Hercules Powder Company's plant at Rocky Hill, N. J.

Dr. Carter assumed his new duties yesterday at the New Jersey plant.

Dr. Carter joined Hercules in July 1940 as a chemical engineer at the company's research center near Wilmington, Del. A year later he was made manager of the Pilot Plant Division there, and two years later was named assistant to the director of operations in the synthetics department.

In 1945, he transferred to the Mansfield, Mass., plant as chief chemist, and transferred in 1949 to Burlington, N. J. in the same capacity. Dr. Carter was named assistant manager of the Burlington plant in 1950, a position he held until he came to ABL to be assistant to Duard H. Little, plant manager.

Born in Alderson, W. Va., Dr. Carter is a graduate of Virginia Polytechnic Institute and of Purdue University.

He and his wife and three children reside in Cresap Park. The family expects to move to New Jersey next July.

All 16 Questions On Md. Ballot Apparently Pass

Judgeships, Compact Given Slight Edges

BALTIMORE (AP) — New circuit judges and a new Potomac River compact gave Maryland voters the most food for thought among the 16 questions they faced on the statewide ballots Tuesday.

They eventually replied in the affirmative to all of them on the face of unofficial and incomplete returns. But it was nip and tuck for awhile on some questions as the accounting on them lagged behind the more interesting choice of candidates.

The proposal to set up joint control with Virginia over fishing in the Potomac prevailed finally by roughly 230,000 to 197,000 on the basis of unofficial returns.

A strong Baltimore City vote against it and five additional circuit judges endangered their approval for a time.

With less than 300 polling places out of 1,338 missing, two more judges for Prince Georges County were sanctioned by a margin of only about 38,000 out of 260,000 votes.

Judgeship Battle

On the question of a new judge for Montgomery and Kent counties and another for the circuit of Washington, Garrett and Allegany counties, the tally was approximately 115,000 to 79,000. Some 480 polling places were not in.

Opposition to the new judges stemmed from the accompanying removal of a constitutional prohibition against present legislators being eligible for the posts.

However, 11 new judges of a Municipal Court in Baltimore City gained overwhelming approval by 130,000 votes even though legislators also could be among the first appointees by the governor.

The way also was paved without great voter resistance to increasing the number of judges on the Court of Appeals from five to seven.

The path also was cleared for the legislature to provide for tax assessment of farm property below that of adjacent land that has been subdivided into lots for development as houses.

The legislature passed such special classification for agricultural land a few years ago, but the Court of Appeals ruled it lacked the power.

The voters approved new language in the constitution to satisfy the Court of Appeals by comfortable margins of nearly 100,000.

Other Property Questions

Two other property questions relating to condemnation of land by County Councils of Baltimore and Montgomery also were sanctioned by lopsided majorities.

The councils will be permitted to take land they want for public use immediately by paying the owner or the court what the council considers the fair market value. The owner could still go to court and demand more and adjustments would be made according to jury awards. The councils now must wait for a jury award before taking the property if the owner is not satisfied with the offered price.

A proposal to reduce the machinery required before a county may grant public funds to corporations trying to attract industry raised quite a bit of objection.

With 1,091 polls counted out of 1,338, the vote was 162,240 in favor to 103,649.

Counties and municipal corporations were easily granted the authority to carry out urban renewal projects limited to slum clearance. The tally was more than 200,000 for and 69,000 against.

Minister Hurt In Fall From Train

Rev. John B. Zinn Sustains Head Injury

A Hyndman, Pa., minister sustained a head injury last night when he slipped and fell into the side of a slow-moving eastbound Western Maryland locomotive while alighting from the cab of the engine near the local station.

Rev. John B. Zinn, 40, pastor of the Church of The Redeemer United Church of Christ, Ellerslie, was taken to the Memorial Hospital in an Astor ambulance. Rev. Mr. Zinn was admitted to the hospital and is reported in "satisfactory" condition.

A spokesman for the railroad said the minister was alighting from the cab about 7:25 p. m. and slipped on the wet bricks of the pavement near the railroad station located south of the Baltimore Street crossing.

A "riding enthusiast" of railroads, Rev. Mr. Zinn had traveled as far west as Connellsville, Pa., earlier yesterday and was returning to Cumberland on an eastbound freight which slowed up at the station to let him off.

Absentee Vote Canvass Hikes GOP Advantage

Republican candidates added to their already healthy margin in Allegany County when some 286 civilian absentee ballots were canvassed officially last night by the County Board of Election Supervisors.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon polled 197 votes or more than twice the 87 received by Senator John F. Kennedy. Similarly, Charles McC. Mathias received 186 votes to 90 for Rep. John R. Foley, whom he defeated for Congress. Two ballots were rejected.

The absentee voters also gave healthy margins to 14 of the 15 proposed constitutional amendments and the Potomac River Compact. There was a 56-56 tie vote on Amendment No. 9, which concerned the consideration of vetoed bills.

Matthew J. Mullaney, chairman of the Board of Election Supervisors, said the canvass of armed service ballots and the regular vote will be completed today, starting about 10 a. m.

Two Injured In Collision At Wiley Ford

Mrs. Pauline Carder Said 'Satisfactory'

Two persons were hospitalized here early yesterday afternoon with injuries sustained in a freak accident involving two vehicles on West Virginia State Route 28 south of Wiley Ford.

Mrs. Pauline C. Carder, 25, of RFD 1, Ridgeley, was admitted to Memorial Hospital with fractures of the left hip, pelvis and nose. She is reported in "satisfactory" condition.

Also admitted to the hospital was Arthur Deskins, 28, of Fort Ashby, who complained of pain in his shoulder and right hip. He was kept overnight for X-rays and observation. His condition is "satisfactory," attaches said.

Trooper Robert Noechel of the Keyser detachment of State Police, said the accident occurred about noon nearly a mile south of Wiley Ford.

The hood of the truck being driven by Deskins raised while he was traveling north on the highway. The truck went out of control, slid sideways and tore the left side off a station wagon being driven in the opposite direction by Mrs. Carder.

Damage to both vehicles totaled about $900, according to the trooper, who said Deskins was cited for failing to keep his vehicle under control.

State Proposes New Park At Rocky Gap

Plans for the development of a new 2,200-acre state park in Allegany County were outlined to members of three service clubs at two meetings here yesterday by William A. Parr, superintendent of state parks for the State Department of Forests and Parks.

Mr. Parr told the Cumberland Lions Club at noon and the Cumberland and Bedford Road Optimist clubs yesterday evening at Central YMCA that the tentative budget for his department for the fiscal year starting July 1, 1961, includes a $160,000 item for the development of a new state park in the Rocky Gap area on Evitts Mountain.

The state official said that the plans for the new park call for an engineering study to determine the best location for a 100-acre lake for both swimming and fishing.

Mr. Parr cautioned his listeners that the park proposal is simply in the department's tentative budget. It must first get the approval of the State Planning Commission and ultimately Governor J. Millard Tawes must decide whether to include the funds in his budget for the 1961-62 fiscal year.

Members of the three local service clubs also were told that about 200 acres has just been added to the Dan's Mountain Recreation Area, another state facility just east of Lonaconing. Negotiations are continuing for several other tracts.

Survey Outlines Mineral School Building Plans

Consultants Give Priority Listing

A new senior high school at Short Gap, W. Va., which would house students of Ridgeley and Fort Ashby is high on the priority list of recommendations made in a recent extensive study of future needs of the Mineral County public schools system.

E. Michael Welshonce, Keyser, assistant superintendent of public schools, has been explaining the proposed schedule for new construction to the county residents in a series of talks illustrated with slides.

Last night he spoke at a meeting of the Parent-Teachers Associations of Ridgeley high school and elementary school.

The comprehensive 39-page survey was compiled by Howard B. Allen and Robert D. Baldwin, consultants in school administration and school building surveys at West Virginia University.

The survey, made at the request of the Mineral County Board of Education, is now being studied by that group which has neither accepted or rejected the plans, said Mr. Welshonce.

Junior High First

The first project in the program would be a junior high school on the southern fringe of Keyser, according to the consultants, who feel that when junior high school students are withdrawn from Keyser High School, senior high students will be in position to reap superior educational advantages.

Likewise, immediate benefits will accrue to Piedmont and Elk Garden senior high students as they share the improved program made possible by a new building for junior high students of Keyser.

Second in importance will be the senior high school at Short Gap. Although at first the center would serve less than 400, its completion would improve conditions at Fort Ashby and Ridgeley high schools and would result in benefits to certain elementary groups that may be housed with the junior high until growth forces further elementary school construction.

Emergency Cited

They said the schools system faces an emergency at New Creek Elementary School where six new classrooms can provide a modern school for 250 pupils. There are no alternatives except to put up with a hazardous, unhealthy, depressing plant, the consultants said. Reconstructed, the school can help relieve elementary congestion at Keyser.

Fourth in order would be elementary school improvement in Keyser. "It is time to erect separate units about town to serve better little folks who walk to school and go home for lunch," according to the consultants, who said "money spent on the present archaic buildings is wasted."

"In all fairness children at Keyser should be provided with simple, functional units like the one at Short Gap. For the 800 pupils to be accommodated, at least three such units are needed," they pointed out.

Ridgeley Building "Antique"

Fifth on the list of considerations is another elementary group in Ridgeley. Some improvements may reach these as the senior high school at Short Gap releases space in Ridgeley High School which will offer temporary refuge from the elementary "antique." An immediate measure to share equitably the program of school improvement would be to construct a "primary" school in Carpenter's Addition.

A four-room modern building would care for local "walk-ins" and transported children brought from Ridgeley on the bus that takes high school students out.

Sixth in order will be facilities to better elementary school conditions at Piedmont and Beryl. Piedmont high students would benefit by going to Keyser Senior High.

Space so vacated would confer real benefits on elementary pupils who could then use the enlarged Piedmont high school. In fact, the consultants said, the addition of four rooms there would provide a plant second to none in the county as well as appropriate recognition to Piedmont's earnest effort to improve its school.

The cost estimate range for the overall program would be from $1,648,000 to $2,122,000, the consultants figure.

Two Injured In Collision At Wiley Ford

Mrs. Pauline Carder Said 'Satisfactory'

Two persons were hospitalized here early yesterday afternoon with injuries sustained in a freak accident involving two vehicles on West Virginia State Route 28 south of Wiley Ford.

Mrs. Pauline C. Carder, 25, of RFD 1, Ridgeley, was admitted to Memorial Hospital with fractures of the left hip, pelvis and nose. She is reported in "satisfactory" condition.

Also admitted to the hospital was Arthur Deskins, 28, of Fort Ashby, who complained of pain in his shoulder and right hip. He was kept overnight for X-rays and observation. His condition is "satisfactory," attaches said.

Trooper Robert Noechel of the Keyser detachment of State Police, said the accident occurred about noon nearly a mile south of Wiley Ford.

The hood of the truck being driven by Deskins raised while he was traveling north on the highway. The truck went out of control, slid sideways and tore the left side off a station wagon being driven in the opposite direction by Mrs. Carder.

Damage to both vehicles totaled about $900, according to the trooper, who said Deskins was cited for failing to keep his vehicle under control.

State Proposes New Park At Rocky Gap

Plans for the development of a new 2,200-acre state park in Allegany County were outlined to members of three service clubs at two meetings here yesterday by William A. Parr, superintendent of state parks for the State Department of Forests and Parks.

Mr. Parr told the Cumberland Lions Club at noon and the Cumberland and Bedford Road Optimist clubs yesterday evening at Central YMCA that the tentative budget for his department for the fiscal year starting July 1, 1961, includes a $160,000 item for the development of a new state park in the Rocky Gap area on Evitts Mountain.

The state official said that the plans for the new park call for an engineering study to determine the best location for a 100-acre lake for both swimming and fishing.

Mr. Parr cautioned his listeners that the park proposal is simply in the department's tentative budget. It must first get the approval of the State Planning Commission and ultimately Governor J. Millard Tawes must decide whether to include the funds in his budget for the 1961-62 fiscal year.

Members of the three local service clubs also were told that about 200 acres has just been added to the Dan's Mountain Recreation Area, another state facility just east of Lonaconing. Negotiations are continuing for several other tracts.

Senator See And Delegates Plan Sessions

Meetings now are scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Monday, November 14; Friday, November 18; Monday, November 21, and Monday, November 28.
